New Cold Wave Due To Hit Ohio Tonight

Thermometers in Marion continued to register far below freezing today with still colder weather promised by the weatherman for the weekend. No relief was in sight from the mid-winter cold wave which Wednesday night sent temperatures in the midwest and northern New England to sub-zero marks and to below freezing in southern states. A bitter northwest wind whirled across Ohio today bringing with it a promise of continuing zero weather, an Associated Press dispatch today reported.

Low temperature in Marion last night was 8 above zero. At 8 a. m. today, the mercury had risen to 14. A weather forecast of "much colder tonight with lowest temperature zero to 5 above, Saturday partly cloudy and very cold" was issued today by the Columbus weather bureau. Between 8 a. m. yesterday and the same period today, the high temperature was 31. A year ago, the high was 30 and the low 12.

The bitter cold covered a wide area from the eastern Rockies to the North Atlantic While some sections of the gulf states reported higher temperatures today than yesterday, the mercury dipped below freezing as far south as northern Florida.

Hits Wide Area

The midwest's Arctic belt extended from the eastern Dakotas to Illinois with temperatures ranging from 25 below in Minnesota to 2 below in Illinois. Subzero marks also were reported in northern New England, with the 24 below zero at Houlton, Me., the lowest in that area.

Colder weather was the forecast for most of the north central region tonight and similar predictions were made for many of the south and southwest states.

Below freezing marks were reported today in Georgia, the Carolinas, Tennessee, Florida, and Virginia but they were not as low as yesterday. At Miami, Fla., where the mercury dropped to 33.3 yesterday, the low today was 43 but in Tallahassee, Fla., it dipped to 24 Atlanta's 22 compared to a minimum of 11 yesterday.

As Ohio fought to keep warm, five persons died yesterday in fires

The weather bureau predicted the "very cold" weather would continue through Saturday.

Frost-bitten citizens shoveled still more coal or thumbed up thermostats to combat the bite of tumbling temperatures.

Ohioans who died in flames, while the mercury outside stood well below freezing, were:

Mrs Raymond Pickering, two-year-old son, Jimmy, and year-old daughter, Rose Eva, all of whom died or were fatally burned in the explosion of an oil heating stove at their second-floor apartment home in Bellefontaine.

Earl Eugene Taylor and his two-year-old brother, Theodore, burned to death in a blaze which razed the isolated tenant farm home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs Earl A. Taylor, near East Rochester in Columbiana county.

Weather forecasters last night predicted "strong northwest winds and colder weather with snow flurries today and tonight; partly cloudy and continued very cold Saturday; clearing with near zero Saturday night."

Forecaster George Mindling said the northwest wind, which replaced a southerly wind, was due shortly before morning.

SENATOR BREWSTER TO SPEAK HERE FEB. 13

Republicans Book Maine Man For Lincoln-Day Address.

The annual Lincoln day dinner for Marion County Republicans will be held Friday, Feb. 13, at Wesley Methodist church, with Senator Owen Brewster from Maine as speaker. Date for the banquet, scheduled each year for Feb. 12, was changed to Feb. 13 to accommodaate Senator Brewster whose speaking schedule calls for an engagement at Portsmouth on the preceding night. His appearance here was confirmed to James Sloan, president of the Young Republican club, by Ben Whitehurst, director of the speakers bureau of the Republican National committee. The dinner will be at 6:30 o'clock.

Senator Brewster was in the national spotlight recently as a member of the committee named to look into war contracts which led to the investigation of Howard Hughes, millionaire plane builder and movie magnate and the indictment of General Bennett E. Meyers.

MARCH OF DIMES RESPONSE GENEROUS

Firemen Kept Busy Counting Receipts of First Day.

Coins are jingling at the Central fire station and firemen are busy opening packets and counting the receipts of the opening day of the 1948 March of Dimes campaign which was yesterday.

First to return the packet forwarded early in the week to residents of the city and county was Max Birnbaum of 148 McWilliams court, who walked into the Central station at 8 a. m. yesterday with a 100 per cent-filled packet. Second was A. J. Johnson of 143 Hill street who arrived shortly afterwards and whose contribution also registered 100 per cent.

Folks are responding generously is the report from the firemen who are in charge of this part of the campaign. As clubs and organizations meet during the remaining days of the campaign— closing date is Jan. 30— the generosity of other years will be repeated, it is anticipated Marion Lodge of Elks, at a meeting last night, voted a contribution of $25 in the interest of the battle against infantile paralysis Virgil F. Dye is chairman of this year's campaign and assistant chairman is Carl H. Knirk.

MARION MEN TO SEE YOUNG ON SATURDAY

Officers Reach Lamar To Find Prisoner Removed To Jail in LaJunta.

Three Marion county officials reached Lamar, Colo., today to obtain custody of Edwin D. Young, 39, wanted here under a first degree murder indictment in the slaying July 11 of Mrs. Zora Hess Gerbes.

They still, however, have not had a chance to talk to the prisoner.

In a long distance telephone conversation with The Star at 12:30 p. m. today Sheriff LeRoy Retterer said Young had been removed to a county jail at LaJunta Colo., by Sheriff John Hodson of Prowers county where he was arrested last Jan. 4 on a bad check charge.

Retterer quoted Sheriff Hodson as saying he took the prisoner from his own jail to put him in a "safer place" and to remove him from a number of juveniles now held at Lamar.

LaJunta is 55 miles west of Lamar. Sheriff Retterer and Prosecuting Attorney James E Reed and Special Prosecutor Russell M Wilhelm, two others in the party, will go to LaJunta tomorrow to talk to Young.

Will Try for Confession

Sheriff Retterer said they would attempt to take a confession from him.

The trip to LaJunta will be delayed until tomorrow because of a four-inch snowfall last night which blocked roads in the eastern Colorado area. Retterer said Sheriff Hodson told him the roads would be open by Saturday morning.

The Marion men will be accompanied to LaJunta by Sheriff Hodson and the Prowers county district attorney, Gordon Allott.

The telephone conversation with Retterer and a call earlier today by The Star to Sheriff Hodson revealed the Colorado officials had talked with Young concerning the Gerbes killing. Since they had few details of the crime however, they were unable to get much information from him

They will join in the questioning at LaJunta tomorrow, Sheriff Retterer said.

The Marion party did not reach Lamar until after 10 a. m. mountain time today (12 o'clock Marion time.) Their train was more than two hours late, partly because of the heavy snow.

Go Through Holly

About day break this morning their train, the Santa Fe, passed through Holly, Colo, where Young was arrested Sunday, Jan. 4, by the marshal of that town. He was wanted as a suspect in the passing of about $500 worth of worthless checks.

Arrested under the name of Roy E. Edwards, Sheriff Hodson learned his true identity last Tuesday when he received a circular mailed by Sheriff Retterer offering a $1,000 reward for the arrest of Young.

Sheriff Retterer said there still was the possibility the Marion party might have to go to Denver to place extradition papers before the Colorado governor. This matter was to be taken up with the Prowers county district attorney this afternoon. Denver is 150 miles west of LaJunta

The Marion officers will try for confession from Young first, however, Retterer said. In case the trip is necessary Young will be taken along, thus making it unnecessary to return to LaJunta.

Sheriff Hodson met the Marion men at the railroad station when the train arrived this morning and soon had them a room in the Maxwell House in LaMar, Retterer said.

No Word from Wife

Young has had no visitors since his arrest in Holly, 35 miles east of LaMar, on the check charge Sunday, Jan. 4. The sheriff added there had been no communication from his wife, the former Geneva Markim, 22, country school teacher, who he married at Holly on Christmas day.

Young was arrested under the name Roy E. Edwards and did not admit his true identity until Sheriff Hodson asked him to sign a waiver for his release to Ohio. He signed the name Edwin Young at that time.

Sheriff Hodson also revealed today that Young had removed the Ohio license plates, O-4846, that were on his 1933 model Chevrolet coupe when he disappeared from here last July. A car of this description and these license plates were seen at St. Paul's Lutheran church yard the night of the murder. Young had replaced the plates with Colorado tags belonging to his new wife.

After his arrest Jan. 4 Young directed his new wife to "get rid of those Ohio plates." Sheriff Hodson said this morning The plates however, were turned over to Sheriff Hodson.

The Colorado officer said he still knew little of the new Mrs. Young. She is teaching her first term at Holly and previously taught one year in a school some distance from that town, the sheriff said. He added that her parents are dead and that she had been reared by an aunt and uncle. Her home originally was in Baca coun-

GOP Warned On Tax Veto

Reduction Must Be Balanced By Boost of Other Revenues, Snyder Says.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16—Secretary of the Treasury Snyder today virtually promised the Republican-controlled congress President Truman will veto an attempt to reduce income taxes without boosting other federal revenues.

He laid down what looked like an administration ultimatum before the house ways and means committee, whose GOP majority is bent in passing a tax-cutting measure quickly. It went like this:

"The revenue loss resulting from any tax adjustments should be offset by upward revisions in other taxes. There must be no reduction in aggregate revenue."

Snyder said the President's own plan of a $40 income tax cut for each taxpayer and dependent, matched by a new $3,200,000,000 bite of corporation profits which exceed a pre-war average, would fill the bill.

Says Surplus Endangered

But he declared a measure by Chairman Knutson (R-Minn) of the ways and means committee, to cut income taxes without making up the loss elsewhere, would wipe out part of this year's budget surplus and create a $2,000,000,000 deficit in the 1949 fiscal period starting July 1.

Furthermore, Snyder declared, the Knutson bill would cost the government $6,200,000,000 a year instead of the $5,600,000,000 estimated by the Minnesotan.

"The cold facts are," Snyder said, "that present economic conditions, budgetary considerations, inflationary pressures and debt management problems require the maintenance of government revenues at present levels."

In his prepared statement as opening witness at the committee's tax hearings Snyder stopped short of calling President Truman's plan the only one the administration will accept.

Snyder blasted at the Knutson bill point by point. He gave the

STRIKES IDLE 75,000 IN FOUR RUHR CITIES

Seen as Communist Master Scheme To Wreck U. S. Marshall Plan.

By The Associated Press

BERLIN, Jan. 16—Some 75,000 German workers were idle today in four Ruhr valley cities in strikes protesting food shortages. Authorities feared the strike movement would spread swiftly in Germany's industrial heart where hunger grips 4,000,000 workers. Many of them are living on starvation diets.

German newspapers in the eastern occupation zones linked the labor crisis with what they call a Communist master scheme, "Protocol M," to wreck the Marshall plan.

About 50,000 workers walked out at Duisburg, Muehlheim and Dinslaken, quietly and without demonstrations. About 25,000 already were on strike at Oberhausen.

Strikes and possible riots were predicted last night by Hans Boeckler, head of the Germany Federation of Trade Unions, after a conference of German and British officials on the food crisis, which ended without any action to relieve the shortages.

Boeckler, a moderate, said he is opposed to the strikes, but that stoppages are certain when people are hungry.

German Reds Split With Russia

Simultaneously, Germany's sputtering political situation boiled up. Several old line German Communists revealed they had split with Moscow-directed Communists and formed an opposition party.

The Moscow radio added its bit to the Ruhr's turbulent political pot by broadcasting a special program to hungry Ruhr miners seeking to prove the way to more potatoes was through the Communist party.

The Ruhr, which has remained comparatively quiet since last winter's food riots, sprang suddenly into the European picture when the 1,550 calory subsistence ration level dropped in many places to 1,200 and even 1,100 levels.

Although British-American food imports have been on schedule, collections from German farmers have not.

American and British military governments blamed German officials for failure to collect. German officials in turn blamed the military governments for not giving them power to enforce collections.

Against the advice of their union leaders, Ruhr workers have launched protest strikes.

Starting with 25,000 yesterday, the ranks of the strikers appeared to be swelling well over the 100,000 mark today and a general strike involving most of the 4,000,000 workers threatened the entire Ruhr.

An Order From the Cominform

"Protocol M" was reported to be an operational order from the Cominform—Communist "International Information bureau"—for a paralyzing strike in the Ruhr

$25,985 Is Red Cross Goal For Annual Drive in Marion

A goal of $25,985 has been set for the annual Marion county Red Cross chapter drive which will be under way March 1 and continue throughout the month.

Fixing of the campaign quota was one of the matters of business to come before a chapter board of directors which also elected a new member and heard the usual service reports. The meeting was held Wednesday at Hotel Harding.

Ivan Barnhart was elected to the board of directors and Marilyn Fields was elected president of the County Junior Red Cross Council.

In keeping with a plan of presenting some particular phase of the various services at each meeting, the board members heard talks and reports on the Junior Red Cross by Mrs. William K. Hamor, chairman and Miss Paula Ramroth, who is in charge of home service.

Mrs. Hamor outlined the purposes and aims of the Junior Red Cross and gave some of its history. Junior Red Cross work which is carried on in the schools, was organized during World War I as a part of the organized, humanitarian program of the national organization, offering an opportunity to serve others both at home and abroad.

100 Per Cent Enrollment

Enrollment in the schools of the county is 100 per cent, the report shows. Each room has a sponsor and each school a representative on the county organization which meets once a month to hear reports and discuss projects and plans. All schools are active in some project, Mrs. Hamor reported. She had for display some of the favors made and distributed to the City hospital, county home, children's home, Waddell home and a local rest home, and stuffed toys made for blind children in hospitals and for children overseas. She reported 250 gift boxes sent to children in Poland.

Miss Ramroth talked on the Home Service work, emphasizing the responsibility of the service to transients and illustrating her talk with personal contacts.

Nineteen cases were added during the month just closed, making a total of 80 open during the month. In addition five investigations were conducted at the request of other chapters. During the month the service received eight wires and 10 were sent. Other contacts included 70 office interviews, 11 home visits made, three collateral visits made, 25 calls received, 20 made

UAW SETS PAY RAISE DEMAND

Will Seek 25 Cents an Hour and 5 Cents Extra for Other Benefits.

By The Associated Press

DETROIT, Jan. 16—The CIO United Auto Workers announced today they would seek a wage increase of 25 cents an hour and an additional five cents for other benefits in forthcoming negotiations with the motor car industry

The demands, approved by the union's 22-man executive board, are aimed at obtaining a third round of cost-of-living adjustments since the war.

Also included are demands for a guaranteed weekly wage and a three weeks' vacation for workers with five years' seniority.

A 25-cent wage increase would boost average pay for the auto workers to roughly $1.75 an hour.

The additional five cents an hour would cover hospitalization, health, medical and surgical insurance.

"A 25-cent wage increase is necessary," the board's statement said, "to restore the buying power of auto workers' wages to the level attained in June, 1946, the last month of effective price control."

The board said it used the federal bureau of labor statistics consumer price index in determining the 25-cent figure.

Either Chrysler Corp. or General Motors Corp. is expected to be the UAW-CIO's first 1948 target. Ford Motor Co., other member of the big three, has a contract that expires later in the year.

The union statement repeated assertions that auto industry profits were "exorbitant" and said its efforts to obtain price roll backs either by government or by the industry itself "have proven fruitless."

Arrest Communist For Deportation to Russia

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Jan 16 — The justice department today announced the arrest for deportation of Alexander Bittelman of New York, a national committeeman for the Communist party in the United States.

The department said Bittelman is a Russian alien and it is alleged he "believes in, advises, advocates and teaches" the violent overthrow of the United States government.

Bittelman, the department said, has been a resident of New York City since December, 1931. He is alleged to have used 14 aliases.

The warrant for his arrest was issued at the personal direction of Attorney General Tom Clark following department investigation extending over many months.

Bittelman was taken into custody last night in an apartment hotel in Miami, Fla.

Death Toll In Chicago Blast Mounts To Five

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Jan. 16—The death toll in the explosion which blew out the 150-foot north wall and roof of a four-story brick building near the loop yesterday mounted to five today with the discovery of two more bodies in the wreckage.

A 60-year-old man, earlier believed to have been killed in the terrific blast which shook the near north side district and hurled furniture, stoves and debris into the streets, was found alive today after lying half buried under debris for about 12 hours.

Four other persons were injured in the explosion in the building at 610 North LaSalle street which housed the offices, showroom and storage space of the Provus Brothers Furniture Co. Police estimated from eight to 10 persons were in the building when the blast occurred.

The victims included Isadore Provus, 58, co-owner of the company; Benjamin Chemers, 45, a building construction official who was visiting Provus; Harry Garland, 37, and Benjamin Berkowitz, 36, both salesmen for the firm, and an unidentified man believed to be Henry Homme, 40, a handyman at the building.

Sgt. Marshall Pidgeon of the police bomb squad said the blast apparently was caused by gas. The People's Gas Light and Coke Co. withheld comment pending an investigation of the explosion. Damage was estimated at $100,000 by fire officials.

INCREASED BOX CAR PRODUCTION URGED

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16—Construction of 10,000 freight cars a month for at least two years was urged by a senate interstate commerce subcommittee today to relieve a national shortage.

Completing a year's study in which it heard 165 witnesses from 20 states and compiled a record of 995 pages, the group said such a program is necessary to increase the nation's supply of boxcars and open top cars by 100,000 units each.

The subcommittee, headed by Senator Reed (R-Kas), said in its report issued today:

"We confidently anticipate that 1948 will show building of new freight cars at a rate exceeding 10,000 monthly. It will require production at this rate for from 24 to 36 months to relieve the existing emergency."

The report said severe shortage conditions resulted at least in part from (1) Failure of the War Production Board and Civilian Production Administration to allocate enough steel for freight car builders and (2) Failure of the Interstate Commerce Commission to use its "full powers" to distribute the car supply equally among railroads and sections of the country.

It held that the building of freight cars for export had no detrimental effects, at least through 1946.

WALL TO CUT OUT SECTION OF VILLAGE

5,100-Foot Levee To Eliminate 11 Buildings; Will Open Bids Feb. 2.

Plans and specifications for construction of an earthen dike to protect the village of Waldo from high water stages in the Delaware flood control dam area were issued today by the Army engineers corps at Huntnington, W. Va. The action was reported in an Associated Press dispatch from Huntington which also said bids will be opened Feb. 2.

A spokesman for the corps said the property has been appraised and negotiations are under way to purchase necessary rights of way, on which are located three residences, two liquor stores and several garages and sheds, a total of 11 buildings.

Construction of the 5,600-foot levee calls for approximately 20,000 cubic yards of common excavation, 185,000 cubic yards of barrow excavation, 170,000 cubic yards of embankment, 12 acres of seeding and 60 yards of rip-rap, which is earthen embankment reinforced with stone and timber.

Dike to Parallel River

The engineers said the dike was planned so as to entail the least possible disturbance to the town's layout. It will parallel the Olentangy river.

The dike will begin about a half mile south of the corporation limit and several rods east of Route 23. It will run north, paralleling the highway into the village, cross route 98 inside the corporation, continue north through the east side of village and terminate just south of the Waldo township school.

Properties Affected

Owners of the properties lying east of the dike and falling in the project area are Clyde G. Porterfield, George J. Miley, Grace M. Michel, Nevva Sheets, John P. Cellar, the Valentine Coleman heirs, Harry W. Klingel, Charles D. Miller, Luella P. Hempy, Daniel Kaelber, Grace G. Miley and Sidney A. Schillinger.

They have received notification that their property has been appraised and will be purchased by the government. Options already have been taken up on several.

The dike will make necessary several changes in highway location at Waldo. Major change will be made in Route 98. The new location calls for intersection with Route 23 in the vicinity of the Waldo school by means of a cut off north of the village. Route 98 will dead end from the south at the point where it is crossed by the dike at the roadside park in the corporation, approximately 200 yards north of the junction with Route 23 at the southern edge of the village.

Another Dead End Road

County road 140 which runs east and west through the village and crosses the river at the eastern edge of the village, will dead end at the dike. From the east, traffic will follow the present route, crossing the bridge and making a right turn up the present Route 98 to the new intersection over Route 23.

Army engineer representatives from Huntington appeared before Waldo village council at a meeting last night seeking approval of the village to the plans issued today.

Mayor Frank Furniss and the council, objecting to the present location of the dike, refused to approve the engineers' plans.

What Residents Want

The Waldo villagers want the entire village protected from high water. This may be accomplished, Mayor Furniss said, if the engineers would straighten the loop in the river running through Waldo. By straightening the river for a few hundred yards and placing the dike along the west bank, the entire town would be protected, he said.

Waldo council offered this plan to the engineers but it was refused, Furniss said. Reasons given were that the plan would be too expensive, costing from $300,000 to $400,000 more than the present appropriation estimate called for. The engineers, he said, reported they would sooner relocate the town, than straighten out the bend in the river.

Protest Unavailing

The determination of Waldo residents to save a portion of the village if possible, appears to have availed little at the present time.

The plans issued today by the Huntington office are the ones the representatives sought approval on last night.

Your Good Health

By DR. HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

A Useful Medical Instrument

One of the most useful instruments developed in recent years is the bronchoscope, a tube with lights, which may be passed through the windpipe to large tubes of the lungs so that the physician can look directly at these structures.

One would imagine that such an examination might be a terrifying ordeal but this isn't true at all. Though such an examination requires about half an hour, the patient can breathe normally while it is in process. He neither coughs nor experiences any other discomforts.

The bronchoscope is especially useful when the more ordinary means of diagnosis, such as X-ray pictures and physical examination, fail to reveal the true nature of a disorder of the lungs. Its use is always desirable when there has been bleeding from the lungs, as bleeding may be the first and only sign of tuberculosis or cancer, and a bronchoscopic examination enables the doctor to tell immediately which disease is responsible.

Wheezing is another symptom, the cause of which may sometimes be determined by bronchoscopic examination. Sometimes wheezing is the only sign of cancer of the lung.

Now and then one of the bronchi may be blocked by secretions or a tumor growth. That part of the lung in which the obstruction occurs may collapse. This condition is called atelectasis. This bronchial obstruction with atelectasis may be mistaken for other conditions, such as unresolved pneumonia, a disorder which follows pneumonia. Examination with the bronchoscope is carried out to reveal the true condition.

Following operations, such symptoms as coughing, shortness of breath, and a fever may develop. Such a condition might be due to pneumonia, but it might also be caused by bronchial obstruction. In these cases, sucking out the secretions from the blocked bronchus may be life-saving. Hence, a bronchoscopic examination is of the utmost importance. It is also useful in cases of lung abscess, in which material is recovered from the abscess, for the purpose of examination to determine the kind of germs producing the trouble.

Of course, when some object is breathed into the lungs, it may be removed through the bronchoscope.

Dr. Henry Schaeffer Addresses Bible Class

The Wednesday noon Men's Bible class at the Y.M.C.A. this week heard Dr. Henry Schaeffer, pastor of St. Paul's English Lutheran church, speak on the subject of peacetime military conscription. In his stand against peacetime conscription, he declared that "the word 'conscription' smacks of force," rather than "our liberty as American citizens," pointed out the huge cost, stressing that this "compulsory military program . . . will cost billions of dollars a year," and asking "Does this sound like a peacetime budget?"

He further commented that "We are willing to conscript our boys and girls but not our wealth. Our vested interests think more of property than of human life." He declared further that "peacetime military conscription is only another name for economic imperialism, and we are now about to train a vast army of young men and young women to police the world and make it safe for our imports and exports."

A program by four 4-H club members in the county was presented at the Kiwanis club weekly luncheon meeting Thursday at Hotel Harding. Arthur Smith, county agricultural agent, was in charge.

Reports of various activities concerning the Ohio 4-H club Congress held in September at Ohio State university in Columbus highlighted the program. Talks on the sessions held at the Congress were given by Beulah Murphy of the Meeker Senior Girls club, Loren Fulton of the Buckeye Lads club at Claridon, Mary Ellen Hinamon of the Monette club, and Charles Heimlich of the Waldo club.

Beulah Murphy, Mary Ellen Hinamon and Charles Heimlich, along with Margaret Johnson of New Bloomington, a student at Ohio Wesleyan university this year and unable to be present for this meeting, were sponsored on their trip to the Congress by the Kiwanis club. Loren Fulton won his trip through a contest sponsored by the Ohio Public Service Co.

A project of the Kiwanis club each year is to sponsor attendance of several 4-H club members to such a meeting.

Also for the program, Mary Ellen Hinamon presented two piano selections.

Introduced by Mr. Smith along with the young people were Miss Mary Faye McMillen, county home demonstration agent, and Lloyd Lutz, associate extension agent.

'GRAY MARKET' REPORT GIVEN

Senate Committee Says Steel Industry Must Kill Under-Counter Deals.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16 — A committee told the steel industry today it must take the lead in wiping out a flourishing "gray market" if it hopes to avoid new government controls.

A report filed with the senate by Chairman Martin (R-Pa) of the small business subcommittee said members of his group themselves oppose the renewal of wartime government powers to divide up the supply.

The report declared, however, that something must be done to curb the gray market deals in which steel is sold at far above normal prices.

Despite its public hearings on the subject, the committee said, "The gray market still flourishes and has, if anything, become better organized.

"It is clearly the responsibility of the steel industry to take steps to wipe out such activity and to assure the return of such tonnages to normal channels of trade."

Criticizes Report

Even before the report was filed, Senator Murray (D-Mont) had criticized it as incomplete and premature.

Murray said the committee failed to attack the basic problem, which he said is that of the capacity of the nation's steel industry.

On this point, the report of the Republican-dominated committee said the country "cannot have prosperity today unless we have enough steel to make that prosperity possible."

It did not estimate whether the present capacity should be increased above present plans except to say that "The pros and cons of steel production and capacity must come down to earth and be continued in the physical and economic limitations which are self-evident."

Declaring there is a tendency in the administration "to consider foreign needs to the detriment of our own people at home," the report said a realistic survey would probably show that "all steel production now available is needed in the domestic economy."

The committee favored voluntary distributions agreements within the industry, saying that reimposition of government allocations and priorities over steel would have the effect "however limited and sparingly used of slowing down production."

The Report Recommended

1. That every steel producer survey its own customers' needs "with a view to correcting inequities of distribution and proportions of steel going to companies whose manufacturing requirements have changed."

2. Assumption of responsibility by the industry for checking its own sales "in order to stop diversions of steel to other than normal channels of trade."

3. A thorough study by the Federal Trade commisison of distribution practices, mergers and acquisitions, and the operations of completely integrated companies.

4. Extension of controls over steel exports, so as to protect the interests of American industry and particularly small business, "for as long as the scarcity exists and as long as efforts to secure greater exports of critical steel products are being made." Present export quotas, it said, "are based upon guesswork rather than upon reality."

5. Giving representatives of the industry a voice in the development of export programs.

6. Stepping up of efforts to recover scrap, including a revision of War Assets Administration policy with regard to sales of durable goods which it still holds and which might be used for scrap.

7. Voluntary distribution agreements which it said "must be made effective if the free enterprise system is to endure in America."

BUDGET SLASH SEEN BY TAFT

Says Truman Figures Can Be Cut 3 Billion; Farley Attacks Wallace.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16—Democrats moved to shore up their defenses against raids by Henry A. Wallace today as Senator Taft (R-Ohio) hammered at what he called President Truman's "war spending" budget.

Taft, who is seeking the GOP presidential nomination, told the Providence, R. I., Republican club last night that $3,000,000,000 can be cut off the President's $39,669,000,000 budget for the year beginning July 1.

Taft proposed an increase in air corps funds as an alternative to universal military training and a $1,000,000,000 cut in foreign aid spending plans. He accused the treasury of juggling figures to prevent a tax cut last year and demanded a cut now in individual income levies.

Farley Assails Wallace

Meanwhile James A. Farley, Democratic national chairman during the first two terms of Franklin D. Roosevelt, lashed out at Wallace in a speech at Lynchburg, Va.

He said the third party candidate had failed to find "happiness" in either the Republican or Democratic parties and expressed the hope "now that he has a party of his own, he can be happy in it and loyal to it."

Farley said it "seems to be a one-man party" and may "end as a one-man part."

Taft leveled most of his fire last night against the Truman administration and the Democrats in general on the domestic front.

He said although the President's budget calls for taxes that will take 30 per cent of the nation's income, Mr. Truman is "not satisfied" with that and is proposing a new ½ of 1 per cent payroll tax for a compulsory health insurance program.

Estimates Fluctuate

He said while the President now estimates a $7,500,000,000 surplus for the current government year, last summer "the President and the secretary of the treasury insisted that the surplus would be only $1,500,000,000 and on that ground the President vetoed two tax reduction bills."

"It seems to me we are entitled to have correct figures without efforts to influence public opinion for administration policies," Taft said. "It appears now that there never was a justification for vetoing the tax reduction bill."

Taft said the President's programs to build highways, airports, public works and flood control projects are "extremely desirable," but that Mr. Truman shouldn't propose starting them now.

"The President purports to be against any increase in prices," the Ohioan said, "but he insists that the government become a more serious competitor for scarce materials and labor."

Reiterating his opposition to universal military training, Taft said an increase in the size of the air corps would be "less expensive and 10 times as important."

Steubenville Pilot In 970-Mile P-80 Flight

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16—Lt. Jim Roe of Steubenville, O., piloted one of the seven P-80 jet fighter planes flown yesterday from Miami, Fla., to Andrews field, near Washington, a distance of 970 miles.

The "Shooting Stars" made the trip in two hours and 15 minutes and the Air Force said that while no official record is claimed, it believed the jaunt was the longest P-80 formation flight attempted thus far.

Roe and his companion pilots who bucked strong head winds most of the way, said travelling 500 miles an hour, 37,000 feet high was like riding in a rocking chair.

Legion Commander Speaks at Bucyrus

Special to The Star

BUCYRUS, Jan. 16—Senator Robert A. Taft was scored as "the spearhead of the forces that oppose us" in the address by Aaron J. Halloran, Springfield attorney and Ohio department commander of the American Legion, when he appeared as guest speaker at the annual past commanders banquet of Col. Crawford post here Wednesday night.

He was referring to the virtually lost campaign for universal military training. In a reference to Russia declared that Red Fascism is "a way of life, and sooner or later that way of life and the American way must clash." He charged the Legion with the duty of leading the trend of American thinking along united lines.

"Nothing To Look Forward To" Britons Tell Galion Evangelists

Special to The Star

GALION, Jan. 16—"It is not propaganda—conditions are really worse than the editorials—and the people are actually poor," Rev. Ellis L. Teasdale, Galion evangelist reports after his recent visit to England. He and Mrs. Teasdale, both ordained ministers, landed in New York the day before Christmas after spending six weeks in England and Scotland. They are now reporting conditions in England to audiences in this vicinity. They will appear in Marion for a week, beginning Sunday, at the new Church of the Nazarene.

REV. AND MRS. TEASDALE

Communism Strong

At a point of deep depression after nine years of rationing and restrictions, the people of England, discouraged and oppressed, seem to be waiting for something, Rev. Teasdale opines. He believes, along with religious leaders, that Britain will have either a religious revival or turn toward Communism. While Communism has a strong following, and there apparently does not seem to be much difference in the socialistic form of government now in power from the Soviet Union government, religious leaders express the opinion that it was at just such a low ebb before when John Wesley led the country with his religious revival. Many of the Britains told the Galion evangelists "We have nothing to look forward to." Restrictions and conditions in general reminded the Teasdales of actual slavery, they relate.

Resent Measures

Just before they left England, all private automobiles were put off the road, Rev. and Mrs. Teasdale report. No one can drive a private car unless he is employed by the government, they said. While it was reported that this condition exists because of a shortage of petroleum, the British people feel that it is only to keep the people in subjection.

The couple said that because of the rationing of food, the general physical condition of the British people looks grim.

The Teasdales served as representatives of the Church of the Nazarene on their trip abroad. Rev. and Mrs. Teasdale whose ages are 39 and 37 respectively, reported that everywhere they appeared—in London (two days), in Leeds (one week), and in Kilmarnock, Scotland (two weeks), their religious programs were well received. They took a plane trip to Belfast, Ireland, during their stay in England.

LIST OF JOBLESS ON INCREASE HERE

Unemployment Figure in County Approaches 2,000.

Unemployment totals in Marion county approached the 2,000 figure during the month of December and a majority of Marion employers have indicated few new workers will be needed within the next 30-60 days, according to a report from the Marion office of the USES.

At the present time it seems to be the concensus of the majority of Marion employers that only a limited number of workers will be needed in excess of their usual total employment figure after all their temporary laid-off workers have been recalled. However, during the next 30 to 60-day period there will be opportunities for approximately 100 women job seekers with aptitudes for clerical work who will be trained for the positions they will be required to fill.

OSES Records

According to statistics in the Marion office of the Ohio State Employment Service, unemployment continued to be high in Marion county during the month of December. At various times throughout the month, between 1,800 and 2,000 workers were unemployed as a result of completion of production schedules, inventory periods, lack of receipt of material, and seasonal layoffs and as a result of weather conditions which include layoffs of construction workers. Duration of these layoffs was from one week to an indefinite period.

As employment continued to fall off during the month of December, average weekly volume of persons claiming unemployment benefits increased 53.4 per cent from 232 in November to 356 in December. The December figure was approximately 60 per cent greater than the December, 1946, figure when the average weekly volume of persons claiming unemployment benefits totaled 225

The total number of applicants seeking employment through the offices of the Ohio State Employment Service did not vary greatly at the beginning of 1948, from the number seeking employment through the OSES at the beginning of Dec., 1947. On Nov. 1, 603 workers were seeking employment and on Jan. 1, 618 were seeking employment through the OSES. The number of male job seekers did, however, increase approximately 10 per cent from 403 on Dec. 1 to 444 on Jan. 1.

Female job seekers decreased 13 per cent from 200 on Dec. 1 to 174 on Jan. 1.

Turnover rates for the 34 major firms in Marion during the past few months follow:

	April	June	Aug.	Oct.
Separations for 100 workers	6.3	3.9	4.9	7.2
Hires per 100 workers	4.0	4.9	3.7	5.2

The separation rate for Marion county exceeded the over-all state rate. The state over-all rates are as follows for Oct., 1947:

Separations per 100 workers 5.0.
Hirals per 100 workers 5.4.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

General Eisenhower is getting the "Poor Richard" medal in Philadelphia for achievement . . . If he also gets the nomination in Philadelphia he is entitled to a "Poor Ike" medal.

But the fact that Ike is being entered in the race in two states now puts him even with Landon already.

For the kiddies who do not remember Landon . . . He was the nominee who carried parts of New England and a banjo.

His campaign song was, "Oh Susannah, Don't You Cry for Me." The morning after election he said, "OK Suzy . . . You can start now."

But one thing you'll have to say for the man . . . After he took his shots for presidential fever he never came down with it again.

Ike doesn't have a campaign song yet . . . "The embattled hymn of the Republicans" has been suggested.

The Struggle for Dignity

FOUR stories in Thursday's run of news back up the claim that the Marshall plan is only one detail in a larger plan to secure the United States against the perils of war.

The secretary of the Army, Kenneth C. Royall, told the senate foreign relations committee that military conscription was likely unless European recovery could be accomplished by the Marshall plan.

U.S. officials in Berlin were studying a Communist plot—a Kremlin plan—to sabotage European recovery by seizing control of the Ruhr. The Kremlin understands that communism must fail if the United States is successful in its efforts to sabilize European economics.

At Lake Success, spokesmen for India told the security council that war with Pakistan is imminent unless the United Nations halts fighting in Kashmir. The United Nations has no power to enforce any of its sanctions except the power of its strongest members, chiefly the United States.

In Cairo, the Arab league announced it would occupy Palestine with armies from its member states after British troops leave next Aug. 1. If the Soviet Union seizes this as an excuse to send troops to Palestine the United States will have to balance Russian power in that unhappy land.

These are current events in the struggle to avert war and thereby to protect the United States against its consequences.

Josephus Daniels

WHATEVER Josephus Daniels turned his hand to, he did well. He was newspaperman, cabinet member, diplomat, author and politician. At 18 he was an editor for the first time and in subsequent years his Raleigh News and Observer became a leader in the South. Through its editorial columns he helped make the North Carolina educational system one of the best in the South.

Before he became Navy secretary, the job was a rubber stamp assignment with the real work left to Navy career men. Daniels changed all that and as secretary in World War I he saw 259,604 soldiers transported to Europe without a loss. As ambassador at Mexico from 1933 to 1941, he was an emissary of the good neighbor policy and vastly improved our relations south of the border.

While he had a rare ability to make friends, he also had the strength of his convictions and sometimes incurred enmity when he stood by them. His was a long, active life in which he ably carried many important tasks.

The Mentally Ill

WE LEARN the hard way. It takes a Collinwood school fire to bring laws requiring the doors of public places to open out. The Sheila Ann Tuley murder in Cleveland, plus the startling statistics in the Kinsey report of male sex habits, have made us aware that there are plenty of perverted mentalities at large among us.

Mental health is a leading public health problem. Mental illness affects one of every five American families: one individual in 20 will spend part of his life in a mental institution unless remedial measures are taken. Mental disorders afflict 8,000,000 Americans. Metropolitan police dossiers list thousands of potentially dangerous sex perverts.

The remedy lies in more than better street lighting, stricter censorship of films and literature, bigger prisons. We are afflicted with a community sickness and it should be treated as such. There should be better marriage counseling to make better homes. School psychiatrists should be available for those in need of counsel in their formative years. Advice should be readily available to the parents of subnormal children.

In even the most basic approaches to mental hygiene, Ohio is a laggard state, for it lacks the facilities to isolate and treat all who are unfit to be at large. The Tuley case again calls attention to the need for a broader program and better facilities.

Debasing Our Half-Dollars.

SENATE passage of a bill prohibiting the commemorative coin foolishness didn't come a moment too soon. The house should match the senate's speed lest the treasury be swamped by applications for special 50-cent pieces to mark every flag-raising and street fair from Calais, Me., to Calexico, Calif.

Pending are requests for special half-dollars to commemorate the Wisconsin centenary, the patriotic service of Patrick Henry, the Reading, Pa., bicentenary, the Utah territory centenary, an observance at Jamestown, Va., the opening of the Oregon trail and the 200th anniversary of the birth of Casimir Pulaski.

These commemorative issues must be stopped before our currency is cluttered up with as many designs as beer checks or bus tokens. Let promoters of observances seek out engravers who will be happy to strike commemorative medals for them at their own expense.

It is estimated that at the time of the American Revolution only about 20 per cent of the inhabitants of the colonies in revolt against England were literate.

Scanning the Record

By George E. Sokolsky

What Do Wars Cost? We Should Know.

EVEN sensible men apply to government spending altogether different criteria than they do to their own spending. Perhaps it is because so little of the grand total is any individual's own money. I may be a little unhappy this week because so large a part of my own earnings will leave me for the treasury of the United States, but it seems like nothing coming at all compared with the more than $30,000,000,000 this country spent on the war.

SOKOLSKY

It is probably because these big numbers are beyond our concept that few of us realize that the cost of war may go on for a century after the war is over. The cost of our Civil war is just aout ended. The cost of the Spanish-American war and World War I is heavy upon us and we are still building new costs for World War II.

The Marshal plan, or ERP, as it is preferably called, is a cost of the last war, just as UNRRA was a cost of war. The phrase, "postwar world," which became so popular after V-J day is, of course, jabberwock. Even if this period is regarded as an armistice, as a pre-treaty pause, which is a most optimistic view, its costs are a terrifying drain upon our resources.

This country played three roles in World War II:

1. We provided military manpower amounting to 11,000,000 persons.

2. We became the granary and arsenal of our allies. Our costs in goods, services, exchange stablization and direct gift have not yet been calculated with any degree of accuracy, nor may it be possible ever to calculate them to the last penny. Lend-lease alone came to more than $40,000,000,000 and that in no manner includes direct contributions by the Army and Navy, and charities from the people, during and since the fighting war.

Our Awakening

But the end of the fight brought us the realization that our richest ally, Great Britain, had expended her resources and needed help. We gave her an additional loan of $3,750,000,000 and additional help. The liberated countries are all without adequate means to reconstitute themselves. Our only ally in Asia, China, is desperate for help.

Soviet Russia, our ally during part of the war, has become our enemy and seeks to defeat us not by military action but by keeping ing those countries that are dependent upon us disturbed and impoverished. This adds to our costs and to the drain upon us.

3. A curious condition of our participation in the war was our assumption of leadership. Actually, the war started because Germany and Russia, in alliance, invaded and partitioned Poland. Great Britain entered the war because Poland was attacked, but the United States was not a guarantor of Poland's freedom.

Leadership Taken Over

Nevertheless, this country assured responsibility and by the time of the Atlantic charter, before Pearl Harbor, before a congressional declaration of war, we were in it. We had assumed the leadership of determining policy. It became our war with all the other participants on our side not only secondary to us but dependent upon us. Some still remain dependent upon us.

The Marshall plan is a continuance of that dependence. It is a continuation of lend-lease and UNRRA. It is an assumption that this was America's war and that the next phase of it will be America's war and that this country must pay all its costs, our own and everybody else's. The $17,000,000,000 requested as ERP was a figure proposed for four years but to be voted at once. Naturally, the beneficiaries planned to discount our commitments immediately, which would have given them the whole $17,000,000,000 at once. This congress refused to consider. So the state department wants $6,800,000,000 for 15 months, but congress will not give that.

In a word, the United States is giving a gift and this is perhaps the first time that the beneficiary of a gift demands to determine what it shall be and how it is to be given. When Secretary Marshall said, "all or nothing," he was speaking the language of Europe. It has been "all or nothing" since we bought ourselves a war.

Pauley's Grain Is No Chicken Feed

Margaret Truman has turned down a $10,000 a week offer from a New York night club, even though the proprietor offered to change its name from "The Chicken Roost."

What does she want . . . a deed to the joint?

Even for the President's daughter, ten thousand a week is a lot of money . . . especially with Wallace's hat already in the ring.

As a matter of fact, the way things look now, Margaret may do well to get the Equity minimum, come November.

Of course, it may be that she's waiting until next year to launch her professional career . . . That way, she may be able to keep the accompanist's fee right in the family.

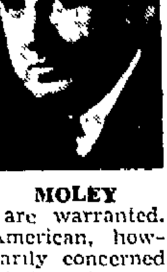
Incidentally, if it's just that they want someone close to the White House, why don't the Chicken Roost try Edwin Pauley? He'd be a natural for the place, what with all that grain.

Food Prospects

By Raymond Moley

AS THE average American reads the accounts of the political jockeying that goes on in Washington over European aid and domestic inflation control, he is likely to acquire a dark picture of what 1948 has in store for him. This is because this political warfare deals in terms of dire contingencies and of blame-fixing. It views with alarm.

The administration prepares to blame the Republican congress for the consequences of ignoring its remedies. And the Republicans prepare to blame the President for badly handling our economy yesterday, today and tomorrow. It is not surprising that the shades which emerge are darker than are warranted.



MOLEY

The average American, however, is not primarily concerned in what this or that party succeeds in proving. He is not seeking public office or political patronage. A most generous estimate of the number of people whose personal interest is involved in political affairs cannot exceed two or three million or, if we include all public jobholders, two or three million more.

This is a lot of people, but it means that the great majority of Americans—average Americans—are interested in what happens to the country, rather than to the parties. And so for the moment it may be well to lift our sights above the party conflict and see what we can see.

If, as many wise economists believe, the key to inflation is in food prices, the prospects are not dark. From various reliable sources, the following generalities safely can be made:

In 1947, because of a bad winter followed by drouth in the summer, European crops were worse than in 1946. Our own corn crop was 850,000,000 bushels less than in the preceding year. A better wheat crop helped, but did not equalize the situation. Hence, because of exports and a reduced supply of food, our meat supply was and is shorter; and it may be short into and through the summer.

The prospects for this year depend, of course, on conditions that cannot be predicted exactly. But the expectation of long-term observers is very hopeful. Such observers say that two successive bad corn crops are possible but not probable. There will be less demand for corn for animal feeding because there will be fewer animals.

The wheat prospects are not so good as 1947, but the department of agriculture has estimated the crop at 1,100,000,000 bushels. Since that estimate was made, weather conditions have been more favorable. Some people in the department of agriculture now suggest, unofficially, that the earlier estimate could be raised to 1,200,000,000 or to 1,300,000,000. That should be compared with the 800,000,000 to 900,000,000 prewar average.

Outlook in Canada

In Canada, the auspices for a good crop have been favorable, and that will help materially. The Argentine wheat crop, which has just been harvested, is much greater than was anticipated. The corn crop prospects in Argentina are very good.

In Europe, prospects are much better than they were last year and the year before. The acreages planted are larger. In Italy, the average is close to the prewar average. The winter weather in Europe has been favorable. Europe has more fertilizers, more draft power and better seeds than last year.

Over the world the situation in fats and oils is better. Rice prospects are somewhat better than last year, especially in Burma.

Russia is expected to export a large amount of grain this year, mainly to Iron Curtain countries and to England. This is not certain, however, because Russian production is less than it was before the war.

These favorable signs are greatly discounted in the propaganda circulated by various agencies concerned in European aid, which predict great scarcities for years to come. But over all, a fair interpretation of available facts throws a rather favorable light on the prospects of natural checks on inflation in 1948. For food is the heart of the problem.

From Cloister To Convention

By Joseph and Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON

THE peculiar, intermittent courtship between American politics and Justice William O. Douglas has entered a new and more decisive phase. The leaders of the northern Democratic organizations have sent word to Justice Douglas that the party's 1948 vice presidential nomination is his for the taking.

The message was carried, some time ago, straight from a leaders' meeting in New York to Douglas's chambers in the gloomy cloisters of the supreme court. The executive director of the Democratic national committee, Gael Sullivan, was the messenger. Douglas did not welcome this political annunciation, and has given no subsequent sign of his intentions. But the Democratic leaders feel that if President Truman eventually asks Douglas point blank to be his running mate, the justice will be forced to accept.

There is, of course, no sort of guaranty that the leaders' message to Douglas will thus be followed up by any request from the White House. As far as President Truman personally is concerned, the choice of his companion on the ticket is still officially open. This will no doubt be asserted by the President himself. Yet, whatever the President may say will not detract from the singular interest of the episode described above.

Repetition of 1944

There are, first of all, the circumstances of the leaders' decision. The New York get-together was held under the informal chairmanship of Edward J. Flynn. It is reported to have been attended by delegates from the satrapies of Ed Kelly and Jake Arvey in Illinois, David Lawrence in Pennsylvania, Frank Hague in New Jersey and one or two more. In short, the same principalities and powers were assembled that took the lead in 1944 in rejecting both James F. Byrnes and Henry A. Wallace and in conferring the vice presidency on Harry S. Truman.

The debates of the satraps were, rather naturally, not formally recorded. Yet it is known that two major points were generally agreed upon.

Point 1 was that Truman would need a running mate linked to the New Deal, rather than a conservative, in order to win this year. Point 2 was that the nomination of such a running mate would arouse bitter opposition in the southern wing of the Democratic party, but that the North possessed the votes to impose a northern choice on the convention. In both these points the practiced political eye will read much that is significant.

The northern leaders' insistence upon a New Dealer again underlines the fundamental change that has come over these great political organizations in the last 16 years. In the days before Roosevelt, these organizations were the conservative element in the Democratic party. They relied on petty favors to hold the mass of their voters in the precincts, and in Washington were glad enough to take a right-wing line. Now, however, the mass vote of the big cities can only be attracted by progressive personalities and programs. The leaders of the Democratic organizations privately cherish the wholly conservative opinions which they have always held. But they must give the voters the programs and personalities they want because their power depends upon it.

Anything To Win

Their attitude was admirably summed up by one of the harder-boiled henchmen of the Kelly-Arvey organization, at the conclave which chose the able Paul Douglas as the Democratic senatorial nominee in Illinois. Douglas was rejected for the governorship nomination (which went to Adlai Stevenson) because he had fought the organization too hard in the past. The organization men could not bear the thought of Douglas passing out the jobs in Springfield, but could just bring themselves to support him for the senate. The hard-boiled henchmen in question put the general view very simply:

"I hate the blank blank guts of the blank blank blank. But I'm for him because maybe he can win."

As the foregoing remark suggests, the progressivism of the northern satraps is in fact strictly confined to major candidates and party platforms. It is strikingly absent from their approach to the real business of government.

Hence result such oddities as Edward J. Flynn's support of Commissioner Edmond Hanrahan for the chairmanship of the securities and exchange commission. There is here a certain amusing irony. Justice Douglas, whom Flynn wants for the vice presidency, was once the fighting leader of the SEC, while Hanrahan is favored for the SEC chairmanship by precisely the business interests whom Douglas once fought. This kind of thing is the source of the curious split personality of the Truman administration.

Negro Policemen

Forty-one cities and towns in 10 southern states employ Negro policemen, according to a survey by the Southern Regional Council's research department. There are 221 Negro police officers employed in the South, 196 as uniformed officers and 25 as plainclothesmen.

The report showed the officers have been instrumental in suppressing crime in the districts to which they were assigned, a 25 per cent reduction being reported for one area. Florida has nine communities employing Negro policemen, North Carolina eight, Texas seven, and Virginia five. Galeveston, Tex., has had six Negro officers since 1870.

So I'm Told

By Harry A. McCrea

The Old Sarge Reminisces

"I GUESS I'VE HAD about every odd kin of job a man can have in the army," said Sgt. Cole, who joined up in the days of wrap-around leggings, campaign hats and choke-collar blouses. "But the oddest was teaching a class in necktie tying."

"I played nursemaid to a colonel's greyhound when I was with the Can-Do regiment in China. I was caretaker for a country house in Maryland where War Department big shots used to bring visiting firemen for trap-shooting. I said trap-shooting, lad, not crap-shooting, but, come to think of it, they did some of both.

"I ruined my feet testing combat boots for the quartermaster corps experiment section. I wore civilian clothes and lived in the best hotels when I was helping trace six deserters turned stickup men. But I knew I'd got my oddest odd job when they told me to conduct a class in necktie tying

"When the army decided to take in WACs—they were WAACs at first—I was assigned to the cadre at Fort Des Moines to help the girls get oriented. They assigned me because they wanted older fellows—good-looking but more the fatherly type.

"One of the first classes the girl recruits attended was a session on the wearing of the uniforms. It was supposed to have been conducted by WAC officers but it developed that girls don't know how to tie neckties. So, after the recruits were briefed on keeping their seams straight and what length to wear their skirts I would come in and teach them how to tie a necktie, by the numbers. My job also was to have included instructions on the wearing of the cap, garrison, but after a couple of classes they took that away from me. I soon found no man could tell a woman how to wear anything on her head."

"Wouldn't it have been simpler, sarge, if you had taught one WAC instructor how to tie a necktie, then she could have taught the girls herself?"

"The army eventually figured that out, lad. That was when I got my next job—garbage can inspector. I used to ride around in a jeep all day looking into garbage cans to see what mess sergeants were throwing away. They called me the Scavenger. I got to be such a nuisance that some cooks used to wrap up their garbage and sneak out at night to bury it."

The sergeant in the foregoing item is now retired and lives a life of ease in Hawaii. Although in his 60's, he is husky as a lifeguard and as tan as a Kanaka. Most mornings he is out for a swim in the surf at Waikiki before 8 o'clock. Around noon he takes a nap. Afternoons he either goes hiking in the mountains or practices archery, at which he has become an expert in less than two years. Twice a year he goes to the island of Kauai for wild boar hunting.

He gets so much pleasure out of life that he deserves to live to be 100.

IT'S UNFORTUNATE that a musical comedy like "Sweethearts," starring Bobby Clark, can play Pittsburgh for two weeks but can't spare three days for Cleveland. "Burlesque," starring Bert Lahr, also is scheduled to play Pittsburgh on its forthcoming tour but will pass up Cleveland. All in all, Pittsburgh is far surpassing Cleveland as a road-show town.

I had already seen Bobby Clark in "Sweethearts" but had hoped to see him again. He is one of the last of the great clowns, trained in the exacting schools of circus, burlesque and vaudeville, and there is no indication that his like will be seen again in our time.

Today the trend is toward ingratiating young men who keep a microphone within reach and read witticisms that have been thought up for them by phalanxes of gag-writers.

Ah, well, maybe later in the year Cleveland will get a rousing revival of "Blossom Time" or, with good luck, perhaps even "The Student Prince" with a Kathy who doesn't have to wear a blond wig.

White House Porch

By TRUMAN TWILL

All politics and election-year sniping aside, the White House needs a porch for the comfort of its occupants, no matter who they are. Most of the sneering and sniffing about this project can be traced to people who don't understand why a porch is necessary. Because they never used one.

The chief executive of the United States needs a place where he can take off his shoes, unbutton his shirt, scrooch down in one of those pliable porch chairs and yell, "Hay mom bring me a bottle of beer out of the refrigerator, how about it, kid?"

Mom needs a place where she can flop down after a hard day's work over those big stoves in the White House kitchen, mop her brow and say, "My, I don't know how I'd stand the hot summer if I didn't have a place where I could get a breath of air once in a while. Hand me the evening paper will ya and be careful where you put those cigar ashes."

Sister—and the White House families frequently turn up with daughters—needs a place where she can lead the lamb to slaughter on a hot July night by curling up in one end of the glider, with the light from the living room window behind her, making a halo, and murmuring, "I always say there's nothing like spending an evening like this at home, don't you think so too, well don't ya, hay you jughead, wake up and talk to me! The very idea!"

The White House dog, now a national institution, needs a place where he can stretch out full length on the cool floor and let his tongue hang out one side of his mouth while he dreams of chasing rabbits.

The White House grandchildren need a porch so they can press their little noses against the screen and get them dirty and also punch their little fists into the screen to make certain the stuff is too stout for them to kick holes in with their little feet.

The executive mansion needs a place where the Sunday paper can be strewn over the floor with no one squawking about it; a place where a tired mind can be revitalized with jolts of shuteye in homeopathic doses without someone saying "If you're sleepy why don't you go to bed?"

It needs a place where a man and a woman can talk things out until the small hours of the night if they have problems; a place where a group of good companions can relax and be comfortable; a place where a wet glass can be set on a table without danger of ruining the finish; where the lights can be turned out while the occupants concentrate on their thoughts; a place where a human being can retreat when he is fed up with what's going on in the living room.

Millions of people in this country thought the White House had a porch. If they'd known official families were deprived of this necessity they'd have been scared worse than they have been. A chief executive without a porch to sit on when the going gets tough cannot be a well balanced American. Build that porch in a hurry.

FARM LABOR SUPPLY GOOD

No Shortage Seen Here Although Other Ohio Areas Are Short.

[illegible] farm workers are reported to be at a premium in [illegible] according to the state employment service, no shortage of [illegible] is seen in the Marion area, Fred Scherff local OSES manager said today.

Commenting on state employment bureau chief Frank J. Colopy's report that requests for farm workers have flooded local offices since the first of the year, Mr. Scherff said only one request has been made here.

In other sections of the state the demand for hired help is so great that those needing workers are not only willing to pay top wages but are offering free housing, essential foods and utilities, Colopy said.

Cites Pay Example

For example, the employment service has an opening for a dairy farm hand in the Painesville area which pays $140 a month and offers a six-room house, free electricity and gas and garden spot to boot. Another opening in the same area, Colopy said, pays $120 a month and guarantees a house, light, heat, eggs, milk, and garden space.

A Medina area farmer is offering a qualified male farmhand $115 a month plus a six-room modern home, milk, eggs, a couple of pigs and a yearly bonus of as much as $200.

The first request for farm workers here since the OSES took over the farm placement program Jan. 1, was made yesterday, Mr. Scherff reported.

The local office does not anticipate any great local demand. Only 17 farmers are registered for employment at the local office, Mr. Scherff added.

Several factors are responsible for the light demand here as opposed to the heavy need for workers in other sections of the state, it was explained.

This Area Mechanical

Local farmers are producing a majority of mechanically harvested crops such as wheat, soybeans and corn, as opposed to dairying, truck farming and fruit growing which takes much handwork, Mr. Scherff explained. Also, Marion county farmers are well equipped with machinery, with more than 600 combines and 800 corn pickers in the county, eliminating much of the need for extra help on the county's 1,600 farms.

Another factor leading to the light demand for farm help here is the fact that local farmers need help familiar with the operation of expensive machinery, Mr. Scherff said. Rather than entrust the operation of their equipment to a newcomer, they would be more apt to secure the services of neighbors, cooperating in harvesting each others crops.

Abraham Lincoln was born in that part of Kentucky which is now LaRue county.

HEARINGS ON RENT TO OPEN SATURDAY

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16—Senator Bricker (R-Ohio) urged today that congress open the way for landlords to increase rents of millions of tenants who have failed to sign leases permitting "voluntary" hikes of up to 15 per cent.

At the same time, Senator Myers (D-Pa) said he is going to "fight like hell" to strengthen rent controls in line with President Truman's request in his anti-inflation program.

The present rent control law is scheduled to expire Feb. 29. A senate banking subcommittee starts hearings tomorrow on legislation to extend it.

Under the existing law, landlords—up to the start of this year—could raise rents by as much as 15 per cent in cases where tenants agreed to an increase in exchange for a lease running through 1948.

Congress wrote in this provision last June on the assumption that rent controls probably would not be extended beyond Feb. 29. If they did expire then, tenants who signed leases would have 10 months more protection against uncontrolled rents than those who did not.

But most congress members predict now that controls, in one form or another, will be extended.

Bricker, a member of the rent subcommittee, told a reporter it would be "unconscionable" for congress "to be in the position of having lured some tenants into paying more rent with the promise of added protection, and then have them find that they need not have paid more."

The Ohio senator said "there will have to be some equalization if rent controls are continued, and it seems to me the only fair way would be to permit landlords to raise the rents of those who did not sign leases."

Bricker added that he did not want to say "until the evidence is in" whether the increase should be as much as 15 per cent.

Latest information at the rent administrator's office shows that as of last Nov. 28, the tenants of 1,458,113 rental dwellings had signed leases under the 15 per cent increase clause. The rent agency said these leases covered 9.3 per cent of the 15,700,060 rental units registered last July 1.

The assumption is, the agency added, that tenants occupying about 14,000,000 rented homes did not sign leases.

Report Young, Hughes Fight for Film Control

By The United Press

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 16—Howard Hughes and Robert R. Young, both industrial wizards, reportedly were waging a financial duel today to gain control of RKO Radio pictures.

Studio officials said Hughes and Young were dickering to buy some or all of about 900,000 shares, valued at about $9,000,000. The shares belonged to financier Floyd Odlum, chairman of the board of RKO and its biggest single stockholder. He owns about 35 per cent of RKO's stock.

Young, who controls the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad, is a co-owner of Eagle-Lion studios and Pathe film processing laboratories.

3 CHILDREN DIE DESPITE MOTHER'S RESCUE EFFORTS

By Brush-Moore News Service

EAST ROCHESTER, O., Jan. 16—A 22-year-old mother was seriously burned when she braved raging flames in a futile effort to save the lives of her three little sons trapped in the kitchen of their blazing farm home five miles south of here Thursday at noon.

She succeeded in rescuing her fourth-month-old baby from its crib, but the older boys, 3 and 4 years old, were burned to death. The baby died today at 12:45 a. m. in Aultman hospital in Canton.

The dead were:

Earl Eugene Taylor, 4.

Theodor Edward Taylor, 3.

Thomas Arthur Taylor, 4 mos

The mother, Mrs. Earl Taylor of RD 1, East Rochester, was treated at Aultman hospital for severe burns on the back and head and shock. She was released today and taken to the home of relatives.

Mrs. Taylor told the following story of the fire:

She was preparing lunch for the family in the first-floor kitchen about noon when she discovered she needed milk and went to the spring house about 300 yards away to get some.

While at the spring she looked back to see the roof of the house in flames. She ran back to find the kitchen already blazing.

The mother dashed into the flames and picked up Thomas from his crib in the corner. She saw Earl on the floor and Theodore slumped over a chair, both a mass of flames.

As she ran out with the infant the joists in the ceiling were already falling in and the intense heat prevented any attempt at a second entry.

She said she had no idea how the blaze could have started since the only fire was in the heating stove in the kitchen and it was very low. She said there were no matches.

Josephus Daniels Rites Scheduled for Saturday

By The Associated Press

RALEIGH, N. C., Jan. 16—Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow for Josephus Daniels, 85-year-old editor and publisher of the Raleigh News and Observer and last survivor of the original Woodrow Wilson cabinet. He died yesterday.

The services will be in Raleigh's Edeton St. Methodist church where Daniels insisted on attending church Jan. 3 after contracting a severe cold. Bishop W. W. Peele of Richmond, Va., former pastor of Daniels' church and a close personal friend, will conduct the services.

The cold developed into bronchitis and then into pneumonia.

Daniels will be buried in Oakwood cemetery here. Pallbearers will be eight Negro men long associated with the Daniels household or the News and Observer.

The sheriff was unable to say how long Young and the girl had been acquainted before their marriage. Young, he declared, had been in the Holly community about a month and apparently had been unemployed. For some time previously he had worked as a harvest hand along the Colorado-Kansas border.

The wife and small son Young abandoned when he left Marion now are living with relatives in New Philadelphia.

Escaped Monkeys Find Cincinnati Mighty Cold

CINCINNATI, Jan. 16 — A couple of jungle natives picked an inopportune time to test Ohio's climate.

With the temperature well below freezing, two Rhesus monkeys escaped from General hospital's animal room late yesterday, climbing out on the roof of the five-story building through the vanes of a motionless ventilator fan.

Early today, almost eight hours later, the fugitives were huddled on a ledge under the roof, out of reach. On the ground, in a lighted area, they could see a tempting pan of food.

Shivering in the shadows, an intern hoped the monkeys didn't see him. His job was to grab them if they took the "bait".

Early last night the monkeys scampered over lower-floor window sills. It was then they grabbed alcohol-soaked pieces of bread tossed by attendants and nurses, who figured over-indulgence would simplify their capture.

The slight "glow" only seemed to make them more elusive.

The blast blew out the upper portion of a wall. Lyles was treated by a physician. Damage to the room was estimated at $300. in March, aimed at smashing the Marshall plan.

Details of the alleged plan first were published in the French-controlled German newspaper Der Kurier, but within a few hours military government officials, the British Foreign office and German Social Democrat leader Dr. Kurt Schumacher all said they had copies of the "secret" document. Foreign office officials in London said they believed the document was "genuine."

Whether it is an actual document of the Cominform or not the plan's orders closely follow known German Communist aims and it appeared that hunger threatened to touch off the desired general strike two months ahead of schedule.

Mobile Crime Detection Lab To Aid Ohio Law Enforcement

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 16—The State Welfare department announced today that scientific mobile warfare on crime in Ohio would be launched by Feb. 15.

A crime detection laboratory on wheels will swing into action to aid law enforcement agents throughout the state in track down persons involved in homicides and other major crimes.

The lab is a ton and one-half truck equipped with a lie detector and other scientific detection apparatus. The Buckeye State Sheriff's association purchased and equipped the mobile unit at a cost of about $15,000, in cooperation with Ohio Moose lodges. It will be operated by the Welfare departments' Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation.

Third of Its Kind

William McElroy, executive secretary of the Sheriffs' association, described the unit as the third of its kind in the nation. He said New York and Illinois also operat mobile labs ,and have found them especially valuable to law enforcement agencies in small communities.

"The Buckeye State Sheriffs' association," McElroy said, "has long seen the need for a mobile crime laboratory, capable of moving into the scene of a crime and making the technical analysis of evidence and in assisting law enforcement officers in Ohio in bringing about the apprehension and conviction of guilty persons."

The rolling lab's equipment includes a two-way radio tuned to wave lengths used by the state highway patrol and sheriffs throughout the state.

Will Assign Specialists to Lab

Col. Ozni Cornwell, superintendent of the state Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation, who will have direct supervision, said possibly two or three men of the bureau would be assigned to the mobile laboratory. Each will be a specialist in some phase of crime detection.

Other equipment being installed includes a complete chemical laboratory, cameras, a film developing room, microscopes for examination of firearms and fibers, flood lights, ultra violet ray machine, sound detector and voice recorder.

A tour of every county seat in the state will acquaint law enforcement agencies with the lab and its operation.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Frank Detwiler of 573 South Prospect street.

Immigrants admitted to the United States rose from 38,119 in 1945 to 108,721 in 1946.

TAX

administration view on three important parts of that measure as follows:

►Extension to all states of the community property principle, now effective in only 12 states, whereby married couples obtain lower tax rates—this "should be given a high priority" among tax revisions later on. It should not be adopted now because it would mean a government revenue loss of $803,500,000, of which 97.5 per cent would go to those with incomes above $5,000.

►Increasing the personal exemption from $500 to $600 — the $500 exemption is "too low" by far and the $100 boost is "inadequate" for present high living costs. The President's $40 tax credit would do more for lowest income groups.

►Percentage cuts in the tax rate —as soon as inflationary forces have been checked "it will be proper to fit rate reductions into a well-balanced tax revision program designed to maintain incentives and broad consumer markets." But tax relief now "should be concentrated at the bottom of the income scale," and the President's plan does it best.

The treasury chief declared the Knutson bill would mean a direct loss of $6,200,000,000 a year in revenue—$600,000,000 more than Knutson has estimated.

VEALS SALT DS IN OHIO

Journal of Science Re- s Valuable Deposits in heastern Part of State.

By The Associated Press

UMBUS, O., Jan. 16—Ohio- can take things with a grain —or a ton of it—if they

Journal of Science to- reported commercially valua- salt beds underlie some 24 eastern and eastern Ohio ties.

These deposits, said the Journal, of great and increasing worth basic raw material for the chemical industry.

mes E. Pepper of New Phila- phia, O., made the detailed U. Geological survey of the areas which the story is based. The er, he explained, was based ly on an examination of rec- of 3,555 oil and gas wells ed in east central Ohio.

es Southeast from Lake Erie

Pepper said the study estab- ed the western border of the area as running in a south- erly direction from Lake Erie ugh Lorain, Ashland, Medina, ne, Holmes, Tuscarawas, ernsey, Noble and Washington nties.

ast of this line rests the salt osits, having in some areas a bined thickness of more than feet, the article declared.

ther counties in the region include Cuyahoga, Summit, Stark, Harrison, Belmont, Monroe, Lake, Geauga, Portage, Carroll, Ashtabula, Trumbull, Mahoning, Columbiana and Jefferson.

But, said the Journal of Science report, you don't just dredge up salt as far below the surface as that in Ohio. Ordinarily it is obtained by pumping fresh water into wells drilled into salt beds and repumping the brine to the surface for processing.

Shallowest Depth in Lorain

"The shallowest depth at which salt may be obtained," the report continued, "appears to be in an area in Lorain county that includes Sheffield and Avon townships.

"There the depth from the surface to the top of the uppermost salt bed ranges from 1,275 to 1,350 feet."

In Stock township, Harrison county, the uppermost salt was found 4,767 feet down.

Lorain county, said the author, provides a "favorable area" for salt prospecting.

"This area," Pepper wrote, "probably contains a sufficient thickness of salt in one bed to justify the cost of prospecting."

Irate Broker Encloses Poem with Tax Check

By The United Press

CHICAGO, Jan. 16—An irate broker paid $1,537 in income tax on his commissions today and enclosed this poem:

"Dear Uncle: Here's my check again.
Rush out and cash it—quick!
For minus this, alas, alack,
My bank account is sick.
My back is bent, my eyes are dim,
Honest, pal. I've worked like sin.
With heavy heart and fevered brow
I'll try to bear up bravely—
Reflecting I did all the work
And you got all the gravy."

TO OPEN BURNED SCIO POTTERY PLANT SOON

By The Associated Press

SCIO, O., Jan. 16—Energetic L. P. (Lou) Reese hopes to put the fire-ravaged Scio-Ohio Pottery Co. back into production Feb. 13—the 15th anniversary of the day he took over an abandoned pottery and pushed it to the top rank in its field.

There'll be a big celebration in this little Harrison county community if all plans go through. Reese hopes the guests will include Senators Robert A. Taft and John W. Bricker and E. T. Weir, president of the Weirton Steel Co., which rushed structural steel to the plant soon after it was swept by a million-dollar fire last Dec. 11.

The owner of the famed pottery disclosed his plans yesterday when he went to Cleveland to purchase surplus equipment from the War Assets administration to speed rebuilding operations.

The W.A.A. gave Reese an overriding priority on $700,000 worth of war surplus machinery, motors, electric controls, blowers and other equipment under "disaster" clauses in the laws regulating W.A.A.

An exact tabulation of what Reese bought could not be made immediately, but he was highly pleased as he roamed the W.A.A. warehouse.

"This opportunity is a godsend to us," he said. "There are all sorts of little things here that we just can't buy anywhere."

He reported most of the pottery plant should be restored in a few days but that it has been more difficult to obtain the required equipment.

While discussing rebuilding of the plant, Reese said it was "amazing what men can do when they want to. It was eight below in Scio yesterday morning and yet 400 persons were out there working on the roof. We'll make it by Feb. 13 or bust."

The fire was a severe blow to Reese and all residents of Scio, most of whom are dependent in some way on the pottery, but the assistance they have received since has restored all their confidence in the future.

"We're the luckiest people in the world," Reese said.

PILES ARE NEVER "MILD"

DANGER IN NEGLECT

No one should ever think of piles (hemorrhoids) as a "mild" disorder.

Although they may seem a "mild" ailment, especially when not giving pain or inconvenience, piles are in fact tumor formations without tendency to heal themselves; instead, they are likely, if neglected to keep increasing in size, involving more and more of the rectal area.

Even a so-called "mild" case may be expected to undermine one's health, by inviting, predisposing to or aggravating other ailments, such as: indigestion, biliousness, stomach trouble, constipation, headaches pain in back and down the legs, secondary anemia with its rundown tired feeling and general nervous irritability.

Removal of piles is the only permanent relief — written guarantee. My method produces little or no discomfort, does not require the use of knife or drugs, and seldom is the patient required to lose any time from work or other duties.

Why not call and learn of this method? The examination is free. No Appointment Needed.

Take time to save time

Have you ever mapped—with pins and thread, or with pencil on paper—the daily "chore route" of your farm or ranch? Have you figured how much back-tracking you do, how many unnecessary extra steps you walk in a day? Have you taken time to save time, and steps, and labor?

A number of agricultural colleges and experiment stations have made practical work studies on farms and ranches, with some astounding results. For example, one dairy farmer (who thought himself pretty efficient) adopted improved machine milking techniques, rearranged his barn to save steps and time in feeding and watering. He saved himself two miles of walking per day, cut his daily chore time by two hours and five minutes. That's 730 miles of walking and 760 hours of work in a year. In making the changes, he spent less than $50.

Indiana tells of farmers who, by planning their work, are raising hogs with one quarter their former hours of labor . . . There's a report of men making hay in 90 man-minutes per ton; while others using similar equipment—but older, harder ways of working—spend twice that time . . . There are scores of other examples.

Perhaps you cannot make such great savings in your operations. Maybe you can make more. It's certainly worth looking into, for even little savings are important. Five steps saved a day makes a mile in a year. Five minutes a day gives you three extra days a year.

There's no master plan to fit every farm and ranch, because no two are exactly the same. You have to work out your own plan of improvement. But the time it takes may well be the most profitable time you've ever spent.

A four-step scheme is suggested. First, consider each job or chore separately. Break it down into its parts. Check each part with a watch or tape measure and see if steps or time can be saved. Second, compare your work methods with those of your neighbors. Third, examine and check the details of your work methods. Fourth, develop and apply the new method. In a nutshell, "Plan your work and work your plan."

Time studies and job analysis have helped Swift & Company increase efficiency and make important savings. That's why we so confidently suggest similar studies in your operations. One excellent bulletin on the subject is Number 307, published by Purdue University, Lafayette, Indiana. It's interesting reading and well worth writing for. Your county agent or state agricultural college can tell of other bulletins on the same subject.

The American Way

In the livestock-meat industry, as in all American business, profit provides the basic incentive for work, enterprise and action. Profit makes the mare go for livestock producers, meat packers and retailers. Too little profit by one section creates an unbalance in the industry. If one part of the livestock-meat industry suffers continued loss, all of us are hurt in the long run.

However, a margin of profit fair to one section of the livestock-meat industry might be quite unfair to another. For instance, we at Swift & Company know perfectly well that both livestock producers and retailers require a higher margin of profit, because of their relatively small volume. On the other hand, nationwide meat packers must build up a tremendous volume of sales to make up for a very small margin of profit per unit—a margin that has been consistently lower than that earned by any other manufacturing industry in America.

Over a period of years, Swift & Company has earned, on the average, less than two cents on each dollar of sales (a fraction of a cent per pound of product handled). Over the same period, the average amount returned to producers for agricultural raw materials, including livestock, wool and hides, has been 75 cents out of each dollar we received. This is not a profit. Out of this 75 cents producers must pay the cost of production.

Whether livestock prices are high or low or whether meat is high-priced or inexpensive—Swift & Company can earn a reasonable profit only by adding together many tiny savings on a large volume of business.

How to Save More Pigs

On the average, 44 out of every 100 pigs farrowed in the U. S. A. die before market time, according to North Dakota State College of Agriculture. Of these, 27 are dead at birth or die during the first ten days because they are weak, chilled, crushed, crippled or infected with disease at birth. Much of this loss can be prevented by proper care, as follows:

Balance the sow's ration. In addition to the mineral mixture, a sow should receive ground alfalfa hay or other green leafy hay up to 20% of the ration. Provide protein supplement of animal source, such as skim milk, or meat or bone meal. To prevent hairless pigs, feed iodine, in stabilized form, in the salt or mineral.

The sow should be given plenty of exercise and should be outside each day. She will get additional exercise if fed some distance from her quarters. Have a comfortable and clean farrowing pen with guard rails and an electric brooder, where possible. Wash the sow's udder with soap and water and remove all mud and dirt before she is put in the farrowing pen. Have a man on hand at farrowing time. A little attention at this time will save many pigs.

Prevent anemia by feeding a mineral containing iron and by supplying clean dirt to the young pigs. Keep young pigs off ground utilized by pigs the preceding year. Start creep feeding pigs a balanced ration at two weeks.

Track Down the Facts

A great family "man" is Fiber Zibethicus, better known to American farmers as the muskrat. He raises his many offspring in marshes, and about streams, lakes and ponds. Muskrat tracks are easily recognized by the drag of his knife-like tail, which shows up well in soft mud.

The muskrat-trapper works hard to make a living out of muskrat skins, and generally his efforts are [illegible]. But there is one fact about his business that he [illegible] down long ago. He knows the price he can get for muskrat skins depends on the popular demand for finished pelts.

In the business of processing livestock into meat for people's use, we at Swift & Company have to keep track of the demand for meat everywhere in the nation. We must know, too, the weights and grades [illegible] by housewives. Experience has taught us that the price the producers receive for their livestock [illegible] by what the meat packers can get for the meat and by-products.

OUR CITY COUSIN

Why "ewe" is spelled E-W-E . . .
Neither can we!

Farmer's Choice—When I was in high school, I spent a summer vacation on my grandfather's farm in Indiana. From my city-bred standpoint, his seemed a particularly dull and unrewarding life. Rising before dawn and working till after dusk, with little or no opportunity for urban pleasures, he was an object of pity to my adolescent eyes. Why didn't he sell his farm and move to town? How did he ever get into this rut in the first place? "Grandpa," I asked one evening as [illegible], "Why did you become a farmer, anyway?"

Grandpa, a moment, leaned back on his stool and looked slowly around the barn—at the livestock, at the huge haymow in the east corner, at the farm tools, at the broad [illegible] the roof. What he said seemed to [illegible] and I don't forget his answer: [illegible]

It Happened in Akron!

Akron Stricken By Polio Epidemic

One of the nation's worst epidemics of infantile paralysis occurred—during 1947—in nearby Akron, Ohio, where some 400 persons were stricken in the city's biggest outbreak on record.

When Akron's Children's Hospital became overtaxed, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis used March of Dimes funds to equip the recreation hall of the nearby Evangelical and Reformed Church as a polio treatment ward.

National March of Dimes funds were also made available for payment of the many medical bills and the salaries of emergency personnel.

It can happen in Marion too!

Let's prepare before it is too late!

The average cost of a polio case today is estimated at $2,000. Expensive medical care is often required for periods running from one to several months, and in some instances for years. In a respirator case, medical care may be needed for many years, and may cost as much as $10,000 a year. Truly, infantile paralysis is one of the most expensive diseases known to medical science.

Despite the fact that the national average cost of a polio case is estimated at $2,000, records show that last year each case in Marion County cost on average of only $1,000. This is a marvelous record but there is only $1,698.39 on hand now to cover current expenses! This means that today LESS THAN 2 CASES COULD BE CARED FOR! Words cannot express the dire need for additional funds to be used for the care and treatment of polio victims. Realizing that 50% of all funds collected will be used in Marion County to help our own friends and neighbors you are urged to give generously!

There will not be individual solicitations during this drive. You are urged to give generously to the great cause. Your contribution will aid tremendously in averting a polio epidemic in Marion.

Here is how you can help in this great cause . . .

1. Deposit dimes, checks, money orders or bills in the coin card delivered to your home and mail to "March of Dimes Headquarters.
2. Help fill the coin boxes placed in downtown business places.
3. Coin boxes will be available in the home rooms for all school children in the county
4. Send donations to "March of Dimes" in care of Mr. Virgil Dye, Chairman, Marion, Ohio.

Asks Marionites To Put Out Bird Feed

An appeal for feeding of the birds during this period of especially cold weather is being made by an interested member of the Burroughs Nature club of Marion. Because of the snow, the birds are finding it difficult to get sufficient food, and not only food but the grit which is necessary for bird life, Mrs. H. O. Wendling of 614 East Farming street said today. She suggested that householders scatter bits of oyster shell, eggshell or sand where the birds can have easy access to it. Two feeders at the Windling home drew 50 birds in a few minutes this morning, she stated. Among the feathered visitors were redbirds, blue jays, sparrows and starlings.

Lamarre Attorneys To File Slander Suit Soon

By The United Press

DAYTON, Jan. 16—Attorneys for Mrs. Mildred Lamarre, pretty ex-secretary to Maj. General Bennett H. Myers, said today her slander suit against Meyers would be filed in New York courts sometime this month.

General Meyers, now retired, is scheduled to go on trial in Washington federal court Feb. 16 on perjury charges growing out of his testimony about wartime connections with the Aviation Electric Co. at Vandalia, O.

He had earlier testified before a congressional committee that he had organized the firm for B. H. Lamarre, husband of Mrs. Lamarre, because he had a love affair with Mrs. LaMarre when she was his secretary at Wright field.

Both Lamarre and his wife denounced Meyers as a "liar" with Mrs. Lamarre announcing she would file the slander suit.

Cincinnati Reds Could Field Presentable Aggregation with 19 Players Now Signed

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, O., Jan. 16 — If Johnny Neun, the Cincinnati Reds' jovial manager, had to assemble a team from the 19 players under 1948 contract today, he could trot out a fairly presentable aggregation, deficient only at first base and in the outfield.

He certainly wouldn't have to make any apologies for his starting pitcher, long Ewell Blackwell, loose-jointed righthander who was the sensation of the major leagues last season as he put together a string of 16 straight victories, including a no-hitter, and finished with a 25-8 record.

His catcher would be named Ray, either Lamanno or Mueller, both capable backstops.

The rest of the lineup would be something like this (1947 batting averages in parenthesis):

First base: Augie Galan (.314).

Second base: Bobby Adams (.272).

Shortstop: Virgil Stallcup (.338 for Jersey City of the International league).

Third base: Grady Hatton (.281).

Outfield: Frankie Baumholtz (.283), Hank Sauer (.336 for Syracuse of the International league), and Marv Rickert (.146 for the Chicago Cubs).

Galan First Base Choice

Versatile Galan would rate as logical choice for first base since Babe Young, who manned the initial sack last year, still has not returned to the fold. Galan used to play first base for Brooklyn.

Adams probably would be the second baseman even if the entire spring roster of 40 players had agreed to terms. A speedy, smooth fielder, he will get most of his competition for the job at the Florida training camp from Benny Zientara, another fancy Dan still unsigned.

Neun has already tagged Stallcup, who steps up to the majors with a fine reputation, as "my shortstop." As Neun plans it, he will replace unsigned Eddie Miller, who is slated to get a crack at third base. Two other shortstops, Caude Corbitt, a .298 hitter for Syracuse in 1947, and Jim Cremillion, a .248 performer for Columbia of the South Atlantic league, are also under contract.

With Miller still not available, Hatton would be the only nominee for the hot corner. With Miller on third, Hatton is slated for outfield duty.

Baumholtz in Outfield

Baumholtz would be the only bright spot in the outfield. Despite his great showing with Syracuse, Sauer on previous occasions has shown a weakness for major league pitching. Rickert qualified only as a reserve gardener for the Cubs last year.

Behind Blackwell in the pitching department would be righthanders Eddie Erautt (4-9), Tommy Hughes (4-11 for the Philadelphia Phils), Howard Fox (19-9 for Syracuse), and Herman Wehmeier (15-8 for Syracuse) and two lefties, Ken Raffensberger (6-5) and Harry Perkowski 17-12 for a poor Columbia club).

Still unsigned are those two reliable veterans, righthander Bucky Walters and southpaw Johnny Vander Meer, righthander Eve Lively, portsider Kent Peterson and Harry Gumpert, ace relief pitcher who throws from the right side.

"They'll all be under contract before spring training opens," says Warren C. Giles, club president. "It's been more than 10 years since we had a holdout."

RAYBURN, MARTINGALE WIN ARMORY MATCHES

Billy Rayburn defeated Dutch Schultz and Tony Martingale decisioned Rex Mobeley in a "double main go" in the double-feature wrestling matches at the Armory last night. Herb Williams and Bob Boulton, two local boys who were to appear on the card, did not show.

Rayburn won the first match which was scheduled for 90 minutes in the second and third falls. In the second he won with grapevine hold and in the third with a drop kick and body press. Schultz won the first fall in twenty minutes with a step-over-toe-hold.

Tony Martingale won the first fall in his match with Rex Mobeley in twenty minutes and was declared the winner by decision in the second when Mobeley got too rough with the referee. This match was scheduled for an hour and a half.

UNIFORM GRID RULES IN THE MAKING TODAY

By The Associated Press

SAVANNAH, Ga., Jan. 16 — A uniform playing code for scholastic and collegiate football was in the making today as committees from the two groups worked out final details.

The collegiate rules board wound up its annual three-day session yesterday, with adoption of less than a half-dozen changes. However, Chairman W. J. Bingham of Harvard indicated others would be made before next fall.

Principle changes adopted at the final meeting Bingham said, were:

1. Permit use of a one-inch tee of any diameter for extra-point and field goal attempts. Previously, a tee could be used only in kicking off.

2. When a second consecutive kickoff goes out of bounds the receiving team will get the ball ten yards in front of the kicking point.

3. The substitution rules was amended to limit replacements, after a team's legal time-outs have been exhausted, to only an injured player, or players. However, the opposing team may substitute as many players as desired during the extra time-out. Previously, mass substitutions could be made by both teams when time was out to remove an injured player or players.

Prexies To Take On Tiffin Cagers Tonight

Coach Somerlot's Harding cagers will be on the road tonight as they travel to Tiffin to engage Tiffin High school for the first time this season.

Although the teams continue to compete on the gridiron this will be the first basketball encounter between the two schools in a number of years. In their football encounter last fall at Tiffin the Prexies thoroughly trounced the Tornadoes, 25-0, and are hoping for a comparable score in basketball.

The Tornadoes will floor a court aggregate with a won two, lost six record, indicating a poor team, but they are better than the record indicates, having lost most of their games by a narrow margin.

On Saturday night at Edison gym Harding will oppose Columbus North in the beginning of the toughest part of this season's schedule. North to date has won six and lost two contests, scoring 343 points to their opponents 310. The two teams have not played a common foe and therefore can not be compared, but North is expected to be very "rough."

YANKS GET $500 FINE

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, Jan. 16—New York Yankee officials declined today to discuss the case of pitcher Harry Nicholas of Valley Stream, N. Y., declared a free agent yesterday by Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler. The Yankees under baseball rules will be fined $500 for allegedly signing the young hurler in violation of the high school rule.

Holy Family Returns To Meet Irish Tonight

St. Mary cagers will be playing at home tonight when they meet Columbus Holy Family for the second time this season. In their first encounter (at Columbus) St. Mary edged the Holy Family five by a two-point margin, 42-40.

Gene Fetter's hoopsters will be endeavoring to extend their win column to nine at the expense of Holy Family tonight at Edison gym. St. Mary's Irish marked their eighth victim on Tuesday when they trounced Harpster 51-43.

In the game earlier in the season between St. Mary and Holy Family the Irish scored fewer field goals than did Columbus (12 to 15) but outscored the Holy Family cagers in foul throws (18-10), to carry off the victory by a slim two-point margin. They trailed at half time 26-23 but came back in a big third quarter to rack up fourteen points and hold on until the final whistle.

St. Mary reserves had little trouble in trouncing the Holy Family second stringers 34 to 8 in their first meeting.

Coach Gene Fetter said that he figures Holy Family to be out for revenge this week and is sharpening his cagers for a tough engagement.

OLYMPIC TEAMS WELL HEELED, SAYS SPOKESMAN

By The United Press

CHICAGO, Jan. 16—A spokesman for the U. S. Olympic committee said today the American winter sports teams had all the money they need for their stay in Europe, but he admitted the committee had to dig deep to provide it.

Rumors that the winter teams were stranded at St. Moritz, Switzerland, spread through sports circles in New York and Washington Wednesday, and Sen. Tyles Bridges (R-NH) issued a call for public support of the U. S. Olympic teams.

"All teams were provided with round-trip transportation before they ever left this country," the Olympic committee spokesman said. "It is not true that they are without money for return passage."

He said that funds also are available to pay necessary expenses of the teams in skiing, figure and speed skating, bobsledding and hockey competitions while they are in Europe.

VOTED ATHLETE OF THE YEAR. Sports Shorts

By BILL DIEM

Star Sports Editor

IT'S a maxim in basketball as well as in most sports that to be good, you have to start young . . . . Middletown, defending class A Ohio champions, starts 'em shooting baskets before they can walk. Newark, always a threat in the state championship playoffs and currently leading their league, uses basketball hoops for teething rings. Down in Kentucky, there's a hoop in every back yard and the kids grow up to attend the University of Kentucky and a national invitational or two before they're done. . . . If there's anything to the maxim, then there's bound to be a continuing string of good Marion St. Mary basketball teams because the Irish begin when they're young.

BASKETBALL TRAINING starts for the Irish in the fifth and sixth grades, and it started off with a bang last Saturday when the grade school Irish flailed Pearl Street, 52-5, in their initial game of the season. . . . Next step up is the Junior High school Irish, varsity and reserve. The ninth grade varsitymen have played three games this season, winning over Vernon and losing to Central and Edison, while the reserves (seventh and eighth graders) have taken two and lost one, downing Central and Edison and losing to Vernon. . . . Next to last step in the ladder is the high school reserves. They have won ten and lost but one game this season, and they are the boys who'll be playing on the varsity next year. Columbus Holy Family, St. Mary, and Rosary, Lima St. Gerard, Bucyrus, Richwood, Ashley, Carey, Mt. Gilead, and Harpster cagers have all gone down to the Irish reserves.

THE MAN guiding all these winning teams is affable Gene Fetter, who started the system when he came home from the armed service to coach the Irish two seasons ago. Gene uses the same system in football. He piloted the football Irish to a Mid-State league championship this fall and his grade school team won the city touch football championship. His cage teams work out in the Y. M. C. A.—the graders on Monday and Wednesday afternoons, the juniors on Thursday and Fridays, and the high school boys on Monday, Wednesday and Thursday afternoons from 5 to 6:30 p. m.

TO FETTER, the big advantage of the system is that the cagers play the same kind of basketball all the way up the chain and are more nearly polished by the time they turn out for the high school squad. The system has paid off so far—the Irish varsity to date has won eight and lost but three games. They'll be in action tonight against Columbus Holy Family, a team they turned back, 42-40, earlier in the season.

AMONG the budding players in the Irish system are Bill Merchant of the high school reserves who has tallied 182 points in 11 games for an average of about 16½ per game, and his kid brother, Dan, who netted 19 against Pearl Street in the Gra-Y league opener Saturday.

Their father, Walt, is a former great in basketball and football at Harding High school.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

by Hugh S. Fullerton jr

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 16—Curly Lambeau, who usually gets his exercise walking up and down in front of the Green Bay Packers' bench and worrying about the game, set a record of some sort when he signed Oscar "Ed" Smith, Texas Mines back, for the Packers . . . Curly cornered the athlete for a little talk while Smith was drilling for the East-West game and the kid promptly agreed to sign . . . Lambeau pulled out a contract and a fountain pen, only to find he was out of ink . . . He promptly put the player into a car with Mrs. Lambeau, turned on the radio for entertainment and locked the doors while the sprinted a block and a half to borrow a pen from Lynn Waldorf . . . . Curly is well satisfied with the result. Smith, a 10-second sprinter weighing 195 pounds, has quite a reputation in Texas as an offensive back, but the Packer scouts like his blocking and defense play even better.

AFTER RHODE ISLAND'S basketball team beat St. John's recently, Coach Frank Keaney told local scribes how his team had been playing badly until he aroused the boys by quoting inspirational poetry between the halves . . . At the next meeting Frank Maguire of St. John's, gleeful over an upset against City College, affirmed that he had adopted the Keaney system . . . "I walked into the dressing room and started to recite a poem," Maguire explained. "The boys said: 'We've got to win this one for the coach. He's going nuts.'"

Leading Women Keglers Enter Tiffin Tourney

By The Associated Press

TIFFIN, O., Jan. 16—Leading women's bowling teams from northern Ohio will compete in the seventh annual Northern Ohio Women's Bowling tournament, which opens here Saturday night. The tournament will continue seven weeks, closing Feb. 29.

Helen Nagy of Cleveland, all-events winner last year, will be back, as will the Briggs-McCarthy five of Toledo, team event victors; Donley and Wollenbeck of Toledo, winners of the doubles, and Ethel O'Connor of Tiffin, singles champion.

STONE,S TAKE 1ST ROUND TITLE AT Y

Sink Martel, 74-33; Commercial, Sally Ann Also Win.

As expected, Stone's Grill walked off with the first round championship victory in the Y.M.C.A. Thursday night league in their game with Martel Elevators last night.

Roebuck catalogued nineteen markers to pace Stone's to their first round victory while Everly flipped sixteen, Ridenour twelve, and Busler eight; Johnson, Wenger and Altman netted the remaining six points in a barrage laid down by Stone's that ended the contest in their favor by a score of 74-33.

Commercial trounced Cooler, 43-39, in taking over the second place spot in the Y league for the round just ending. Frank exploded for Commercial with twenty-one counters, nine two pointers and three charity tosses. In conquering the Coolers last night, Garver copped high honors for the Cooler courtsters with a big fourteen points.

In their battle to get out of the cellar position Sally Ann Inn edged Pollak by a 37-36 count to relinquish the unenviable spot that they have been sharing with the Steelers since the opening of the league. Johnson was extremely potent for the Sally Inn combine as he fit the hoop consistently from any spot on the floor in getting twenty-two counters. Schorr also went on a scoring spree as he banged in eleven fielders and one gift shot for twenty-two of the Steelers' markers.

League standings at the end of the first round are:

Yanks Tagged with $500 Fine For Signing High School Boy

By The United Press

NEW YORK, Jan. 15—The New York Yankees, who probably will be able to dig up the money somewhere, were tagged with a $500 fine today by Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler, who made it plain that he means business in his program to protect high school players from high pressure scouting.

Chandler fined the Yankees because they signed up Harry Nicholas, a brilliant kid from Valley Stream High school on Long Island, while he still had scholastic eligibility.

The Yankees said the youngster had been signed through a misunderstanding and that they had no desire whatever to violate Chandler's edict against signing high school players.

All Normal Elsewhere

Elsewhere, all was normal on the baseball front with players continuing to sign contracts without any balking and with only Ferris Fain, Philadelphia Athletics' first baseman, kicking up even a mild fuss. Fain said he had returned his contract to Manager Connie Mack from his home in San Francisco without signing it.

At Cincinnati, veteran catcher Ray Mueller and three young Red players, pitcher Howard Fox, shortstop Virgil Stallcup and outfielder Hank Sauer, returned signed contracts. The youngsters were International league players last season, but are expected to land regular jobs this year.

McHale Signs

The Detroit Tigers reported that Johnny McHale, the number one candidate for the first base job had signed his contract. He is expected to take over for Roy Cullenbine, who was sold during the off season to the Philadelphia Phils. He hit only .211 last season.

The Giants made news by buying infielder Jack Conway from the Cleveland Indians via the waiver route.

Former New York Yankee manager Bob Shawkey, who served after the death of Miller Huggins and before the arrival of Joe McCarthy from the Chicago Cubs, was named as a scout by the Pittsburgh Pirates.

ROACH, EX - MARINE, TO MAKE GARDEN RING DEBUT

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Jan. 16—Lavern Roach, the Plainview, Tex., ex-Marine, makes his ring debut in Madison Square Garden tonight as a 3-2 underdog against apple-cheeked Tony Janiro, Youngstown, O., middleweight. The tussle is scheduled for 10 rounds.

Roach, selected as the top rookie of 1947, will have an advantage of six pounds over Janiro, who is expected to weigh 152. Roach has won all but one of his 23 professional bouts.

Edison Juniors Take Vernon Cagers, 28-19

Edison Junior High cagers were on last night in their game with Vernon as they trounced them 28-19. Center Mason was the leading point-getter for both teams as he helped Edison tack up the victory looping five fielders for a ten-point total. Edington gave a helping hand with three two-pointers for a six.

On the vanquished team, Ludwig was high with ten counters, getting four fielders and two charity throws.

Vernon reserves did what the older brothers failed to do, as they knocked off the Edison small fry 27-20.

In another Tri-City league game, Bucyrus took Galion, 25-11, on the loser's court.

JOE LOUIS VOTED FLOP OF THE YEAR

Red Sox, Cards, Place and Show for Dubious Honor.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Jan. 16—Joe Louis' winning effort against Jersey Joe Walcott was the biggest disappointment of 1947 to the sports editors of the nation who submitted answers to the annual Associated Press year-end poll.

Those who had come to expect the Brown Bomber to make short work of all opposition were let down by his dull effort against the 33-year-old challenger who twice knocked him down. Entirely aside from any disagreement with the disputed verdict, the editors apparently were shocked most of all by the sudden disintegration of the heavyweight champion.

Although a large majority of the writers said they thought Louis would defeat Walcott decisively next time they meet, they agreed in handing the unenviable "flop of the year" title to the champ.

Choice of Louis was not unanimous. In fact it probably would have been a tossup between the Boston Red Sox and St. Louis Cardinals for "most disappointing performance" if the heavyweight fight had not resulted in such a commotion.

The Red Sox, an overwhelming choice to win a second straight American league pennant last spring, never were in the battle after June. Five writers thought the Sox the biggest flop, and six voted for the Cardinals but 18 put the finger on Louis.

Ohio State's football team, winner of only two games, was voted eighth biggest disappointment of the year.

OHIO COLLEGES FACE 30-GAME WEEKEND

Wooster Tops Ashland, Oberlin Takes Denison in Tilts.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 16—Ohio college basketball officials—the hawkshaws of the hardcourts—oiled their whistles today in preparation for one of those busy mid-season weekends.

Buckeye collegians are scheduled to perform in nine games tonight and 21 Saturday night—a welter of contests which can be expected to bring at least 3,000 blasts from officials' whistles, figuring a conservative two dozen toots a quarter.

Only two games marred the cage front quiet in Ohio last night: Wooster's Scots topped Ashland, 55-45, and Oberlin coasted to a 49-40 victory over Denison's Big Reds.

Both were Ohio conference contests and both had similar patterns.

Wooster clubbed out an early lead in the first period on Ashland's home court and maneuvered that lead the rest of the way.

Oberlin turned out uncanny accuracy in the first half against Denison, hitting on nearly 50 per cent of its shots from the field, and coasting in on a 16-point halftime margin.

It was Wooster's sixth win in eight starts this year against all opposition, collegiate or not, and much of its victory could be credited to forward Ralph Wagner who flipped 22 points. Wooster's decision was the 25th, against six losses, in the 24-year-old cage rivalry with Ashland.

Denison came back in the second half against Oberlin but the Big Reds found 16 points too many to overcome, even against a team which had gone sour at the hoop. Guard Bob Addison led the point parade with 17.

Eve Applegett was way above her closest competitor for the Palace Wednesday night as she hit a 181 game and took series high with 456. Eve bowls with Market and Lewis in the Ladies All-Star league. Ten others in the Ladies league had games of 150 and over.

Five men in the Business Men's league went over the 200 mark in Palace bowling with 225 being the highest. It was made by Stewart for Coca Cola, who defeated Borden's, 2537 to 2434.

Osgood Affiliated league bowling was led by Schrader of Alloy with a 224 single high, and by Myers of the same team in three games with 615. D. Penry of Alloy also had a good single game score with 224 as his highest.

In all, seven men made better than 200 in single games Wednesday night at the Rec and six made over 500 in three games. Two men, Myers and Schrader both on the Alloy team, went over 600 in series.

"CHIANG CIRCLED BY DISHONESTY," REPORT

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, Jan. 16—Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer, whose report as a special presidential envoy is a closely-guarded State department secret, said here last night he personally warned Chiang Kai-shek he is surrounded "by people who are dragging him down, who are incompetent and dishonest."

Speaking at a meeting of the Cincinnati Foreign Policy association, General Wedemeyer, who was wartime commander of United States forces in China, made this statement:

"I don't know who could replace Chiang Kai-shek. He seems to be the logical leader. He is surrounded, though, by people who are dragging him down, who are incompetent and dishonest. I have told him so."

After his talk, a member of the audience asked General Wedemeyer why his envoy report had not been made public. He answered:

"I don't know. I really don't know."

Rule Suffocation Cause of 2 Deaths in Alaska

By The Associated Press

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, Jan. 16—Suffocation was advanced today as the cause of death for a former Portsmouth, O., man and a Briston Bay fisherman New Year's eve.

Clinton Stein, FBI agent in charge here, said a chemical analysis made at Washington, D. C., revealed the bodies of both Harold W. Griffen, 45, one-time Portsmouth professional football player, and Martin Ernestus, 42, contained considerable carbon monoxide in the blood, plus sufficient alcohol to cause coma.

Stein explained that an oil stove that had been burning in the house may have exhausted the fresh air, causing their suffocation.

Mrs. Griffen, found alive several days later when a neighbor went to the Ernestus home, still is in critical condition and unable to tell what happened. Mrs. Griffen also is suffering a dislocated wrist and chest abrasions.

Griffen, who played college football at the University of Iowa, and also was a graduate of the University of Washington law school, managed a prominent trading post at Dillingham, Alaska.

In Plain Words

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

HAVE you been saying anything about your congressman lately? Think of his feelings.

One congressman, who recently went home to tell what congress is doing, used half his speech to talk about a congressman's feelings.

He's no chicken in politics, either. He's Rep. Homer A. Ramey, an Ohio Republican. He's been in Ohio politics 28 years and in congress five.

It just goes to show you, when you read what Ramey said, that you ought to think fore and aft before you rock a congressman's canoe.

MARLOW

Suppose you praise him. He has to be careful, that it won't "lull him into a fasle sense of security."

And criticism! He may look upon it as "murderous barbs hurled at him" or, sometimes, as "torrents of abuse."

And there's always the danger, if you say nasty things about him, that you'll make his skin thick. How thick? Thick as an elephant's.

Here's some of what Ramey said:

"There are those (meaning people everywhere) who say congress is doing nothing. They are equaled in number, sound and fury by those who insist congress is doing too much.

"The first group says congress is neglecting its duties. The second holds that congress is far beyond the bounds set for it by the Constitution.

"ON THE ONE hand we hear congress is bent on destroying free enterprise. Not long ago I was accused of being in sympathy with the Communists.

"On the other hand congress is regarded by many advanced thinkers as quite out of date. If not that, it is the tool of the Chamber of Commerce, the National Association of Manufacturers, the Catholic church, or the Ku Klux Klan.

"Congress has often been castigated as subservient to organized labor. * * *

"Everybody wants congress to do something, but nobody ever likes what it does for very long at a time.

"I recently discovered the Library of Congress owns 70-odd books lambasting congress, but has been able to find only one openly in favor of it. * * *

"THIS IS NO NEW situation. Walt Whitman defined what he called the 'never ending audacity of elected persons.' Mark Twain said his greatest fear was that he might become that 'lowest form of human creature,' a congressman.

"No wonder the sensitive soul who came to congress full of idealism and determination to save the nation in its hour of need sometimes falls into the mood of the old song: 'I care for nobody, no, not I, and nobody cares for me.

"Fortunately, most members of congress have developed epidermis closely resembling the hide of the elephant. Perhaps the long-suffering elephant and the tough little donkey are particularly suitable emblems for political parties.

"It takes a thick skin to protect a lesiglator from the murderous barbs of criticism hurled at him. He must also guard himself from being engulfed in the enervating waves of adulation which pass over him infrequently, but which might lull him into a false sense of security, self-righteousness, or complacence.

"It is essential for a congressman to be able to stand up under the torrents of abuse which fall on him, but perhaps even more important that he not stop work and begin celebrating when someone gives him a pat on the back.

"Congressmen have been known to break into tears of gratitude, actually go to pieces, when thanked or complimented for their work in Washington. The shock was just too much for them."

Now how do you feel?

TO LEVY ON CHURCHMAN

By The Associated Press

WOOSTER, O., Jan. 16—Counsel for Andrew J. Yoder, 33-year-old Amish farmer who obtained a $5,000 judgment against Bishop John W. Helmuth and three other church leaders because of a boycott, indicated yesterday a new execution will be issued soon against another church leader. Bishop Helmuth's possessions brought $2,359.71 at auction and costs totaled $83.10, the Holmes county sheriff's office disclosed. Yoder claimed the "mite"—or boycott—had reduced him to a social outcast.

W. C. T. U. HERE BACKS LOCAL OPTION MOVE

A house to house canvass having as its objective the placing before the state legislature a petition calling for the passing of a local option law will be made in Marion city and county in the near future by local W.C.T.U. organizations. One of the first groups to take action on the project is the Mary Harris Armor W.C.T.U. three of whose members volunteered to take part in the canvass at a meeting Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Fred Ellery of Bradford street.

Following presentation of the movement by Mrs. Erwin Jobe, leader, Mrs. Frank Douce, Mrs. H. E. Epley and Mrs. G. L. Musselman volunteered to aid in making the canvass. The petition, seeking the passing of a local option law, will be circulated throughout the state by the United Temperance Forces of Ohio, comprised of the Anti-Saloon League, Council of Churches and the W.C.T.U. Members of the W.C.T.U. are acting in response to a call made by Miss Mary B. Erwin of Cleveland, state president and vice president of the National W.C.T.U.

Mrs. A. L. Wood directed group singing for the opening of the meeting and Mrs. Jobe was the leader for responsive readings. Prayer was by Mrs. Florence Tuttle. A program, taken from the Union Signal, was presented by Mrs. T. S. Cathers, Mrs. H. E. Epley, Mrs. Warren Wise and Mrs. Charles Feaver. Mrs. Wise, accompanied at the piano by Miss Maye Evangeline Lawrence presented a group of songs and Miss Lawrence gave a group of original readings. Devotions, "The Good Samaritan," were by Mrs. H. E. Epley and Mrs. Jobe gave a talk on "Our Daily Life and Its Effect Upon Others." The program closed with the W.C.T.U. benediction. A social hour followed. The members will be joined by their husbands at a meeting Feb. 17 at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Robert W. Faulkner at 195 South Vine street.

Fuel Oil Situation Here Is Clarified

An article appearing in The Star last night apparently is being misinterpreted by local fuel oil users who have been flooding the local division offices of the Standard Oil Co. with phone calls, Division Manager J. P. Sharkey said today.

Mr. Sharkey said his company is not in a position to take on any new fuel oil business. The company has opened no new accounts since last July. All fuel oil sales are made only to customers who have contracts with the company to provide them with fuel oil.

The company hopes to be able to supply local customers, already under contract, with fuel oil sufficient to see them through the winter, barring unforseen circumstances.

No new customers can be accepted by the company at present, he said. In the event of a long period of extremely cold weather the company could make no prediction as to its ability to supply customers now under contract. The fuel oil situation still remains critical, Mr. Sharkey stated.

KILLED IN AUTO WRECK

By The Associated Press

AKRON, O., Jan. 16—A 43-year-old manager of a Massillon warehouse, Paul L. Spahr, died yesterday in the wreckage of his automobile near neighboring Manchester. Sheriff deputies said the machine clipped a utility pole, skidded into a gasoline station and burst into flames.

FINDS DAUGHTER AFTER 30 YEARS — For 30 years Harold Hamilton (left), Detroit, believed his wife and daughter dead. His wife is. But Betty Hamilton (right) is soon coming from Belfast, Ireland, and with her will be a granddaughter that Hamilton never dreamed existed. The strange story behind all this began when Hamilton, in World War I, married a pretty colleen while on leave. When he heard he was about to be a father, he tried to get a furlough and failed. Then he was informed that both mother and baby died. A year ago a radio Christmas story caused him to do some checking. Recently he located Betty, and arranged for the reunion.

Love's Perilous Path

By ADELE GARRISON

MY father observed meticulously the request I had asked Lillian to make of him. He did not say a word until I had given him the message Mr. "K." had asked me to memorize.

I spoke the words slowly, emphasizing the code words contained between the signaling "Sees?" with which the FBI man had liberally sprinkled the script. And when I came to the request that he wait until I get a handkerchief, Mr. "K." standing close to me in the telephone booth, masked with the wall tapestry, in the Philip Veritzen library, reached out his hand, took the telephone receiver from me, and putting it to his ear, listened to what my father was telling him, patently a code message.

Then he was pressing the receiver back into my hand, and speaking in prison-fashion close to my ear, the code words with which he wished to answer my father.

He repeated the procedure often; the conversation seemed to my tense nerves to go on interminably. Then finally he whispered: "Say 'Good-bye, Father,'" and I obeyed him.

"Good-bye, my darling," my father said affectionately. Then I heard his telephone click, and I hung up my own with the feeling that I had been put through a wringer, and did not have the strength to drape myself over a clothes line to dry.

"Are you all right?" I heard Mr. "K." ask in quick alarm.

"Perfectly," I said dully, and then Dicky was at the door of the phone booth and Mr. "K." was stepping quickly away from it.

"Give me your hands!" my husband was saying tenderly, and then he lifted me to my feet, and I felt his strong, supporting arm around my shoulders.

"If you'll just trundle that easy chair over here 'K.'," he said, "I'll be grateful."

"Right with you," the concerned voice of the FBI man answered, and indeed, the chair was by my side immediately, and Dicky was fairly lifting me into it.

"Now lean back and relax," he said. "No, Olga, Phil, she doesn't need a thing," he added as both the Veritzens hovered over me. "If somebody will give her a glass of water, she'll be right as rain in five minutes. This memory stuff—concentrating this way—always leaves her like this."

"I should think it would," Mr. "K." said, as Phil moved quickly away, gesturing to Olga to stay near me. I knew Phil was going after the glass of water Dicky had requested, but I did not care when, if ever, it came. I wanted only to lean back in my chair with my eyes closed, and Dicky still holding my hands tightly in his.

"You're sure she doesn't need Mrs. Veritzen?" Mr. "K." asked, and I knew that Dicky must have given him a negative shake of his head, for his next question was put directly to Olgo.

"How much longer do you need on that work of yours?" he asked.

"Five minutes," she returned.

"Good!" he commented. "Please finish it then, for 'the Chief' wishes us to come over as soon as we possibly can arrange things here."

"I'll have it ready for you," I heard Olga say, and then Dicky was saying: "Here's the glass of water, Sweet," and I was drinking the refreshing iced draught.

"Now, close your eyes again," Dicky said, and I recognized with amusement the tone he has used from her babyhood, to put our small daughter, Faith to sleep.

But, even though I smiled at it, I reveled in his tender care, and kept my eyes closed until I heard Olga say: "Here are the things for which Mr. Spencer asked, all done up in this package. I have written everything he has asked, and put in the stationery he requested. To whom am I to give the package?"

"To me, dearest," I said, opening my eyes and leaning forward in my chair, and Dicky let go my hands, and clapped me on the shoulder.

"Madge is herself again," he parodied, and I heard the clapping of hands from the others in the room.

Global Scene

By DeWitt Mackenzie

WASHINGTON

THE great black-and-white blizzard is at its peak in the nation's capital.

The thing a man needs most here now to weather it is a pair of dark glasses to guard his eyeballs against over-exposure. Earmuffs will come in handy later.

The blizzard is only showering paper, but that doesn't make it less disastrous to weakened optic nerves. A man can suffocate in wood pulp, feathers, or molasses as well as in quicksand.

Hal Boyle

This is the customary hurricane season in the big-domed building on the hill—when windy storms of two-volume reports, estimates, inventories, summaries, statistical tables, bills and resolutions blow in with the annual opening of congress.

The quill pen that launched a young republic has given way to giant government printing presses that document a vast democracy.

In the last nine days some 25 pounds of paper ammunition for the vocal battles ahead have been laid upon the desk of every representative and senator in the capitol. Today one could get the idea there that the country is being held together by paper clips.

NOW—IF EVER—is the time your congressman needs your understanding. He is up to his iris in the printed word, wading forward gamely, eyebrows twitching, as the red-rimmed lanterns of his mind try to sift and assimilate the data he needs to decide the most critical issues ever faced by a peacetime congress.

If you think he's doing a swell job, don't send a printed card congratulating him. He's allergic to anything with reading matter on it. Just mail him a small bottle of eye lotion. That's what he needs most.

All morning he reads reports and listens to witnesses in committee meetings. The afternoon is spent in house chamber sessions hearing other members attack or defend the words contained in the 25 pounds of papers dumped on his desk.

In the evening the only new phrases that reach his ears are the remarks of his wife on this theme:

"Just tell me why I ever left Cornflakes, Neb., to come here to this! Just tell me 'why!'"

BUT UNTIL MIDNIGHT or after he is up studying the seven-pound presidential budget or a mimeographed syllabus with diagrams on why the folks back home need a federal power dam across Hogleg creek.

Of course, he doesn't have to paddle through it all himself. The library of congress will prepare him digests of what he needs on many topics. But if you think a digest is something easy to read in Washington just curl up yourself for a long lifetime some day with one.

The congressman has to work fast because there isn't much time. By mid-summer he and the rest of the people's chosen will have to consider the issues of inflation, taxes, European recovery, national expenditures, universal military training, housing, labor, and the question of extending rent control and the reciprocal trade treaty act.

HE KNOWS EVERYBODY will want to adjourn before August in order to go back home and campaign for reelection. He wants to also.

And the reward if he wins?

Well, next January he will come back to a desk freshly dusted to receive another 25-pound paper blizzard.

It wouldn't be so bad if they'd just leave out a few charts and graphs and streamline the reports. The best way would be to put in some pretty girl pin-up pictures to rest a tired man's eyeballs.

IERCE FIRE WRECKS BOSTON WAREHOUSE

By The Associated Press

BOSTON, Jan. 16—A spectacular alarm fire wrecked a stocked five-story leather warehouse in the downtown district and invaded an adjoining establishment before it was checked last night. Owners estimated the loss at $2,000,000.

The flames roared furiously through the leather plant for fuor hours before firemen of eleven communities gave assurances valuable nearby property was out of danger. A heavy patrol of firemen was established at the scene throughout the night.

More than 50 persons trapped on the fourth and fifth floors of the leather warehouse, owned by the Armour Leather Co., made their way to safety over fire escapes.

Six firemen were injured and more than a dozen others were overcome by acrid fumes from burning leather and wool.

Fast Passenger Train Derailed In Florida

By The Associated Press

CROSS CITY, Fla., Jan. 16 — The Southland, fast Chicago-to-Tampa passenger train, was derailed in an isolated sector north of here today and several persons were reported injured.

Seven cars of the southbound Atlantic Coast Line train left the rails and five others were partially derailed in the accident, which occurred around 7 a. m., 11 miles north of here.

J. L. Naylor, A.C.L. ticket agent at Cross City, said the engineer of the train came here immediately afterward to report the wreck and related that several passengers were hurt.

HIGHWAY GROUP NAMED

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 16—Sen. Roscoe R. Walcutt, chairman of the post-war program commission, today named a 29-member committee, headed by Atty. Harold W. Houston of Urbana, to study problems involved in building a modern Ohio highway system. The study, requested some time ago by Gov. Thomas J. Herbert, was suggested by State Highway Director Murray D. Shaffer.

Furniture Auction
Saturday, Jan. 17
1:00 p. m.
119 N. STATE ST.

Absolute Auction—all must sell to the highest bidder regardless of price. As this sale consists of almost all suites, rugs, stoves, etc., with very few small pieces it will not take long to give it all a new home. Listed below are some of the items to be sold.

Two-piece blue living room suite. Its mate on the new store floors today at $259. You can buy this one at your own price.

Blond bedroom suite complete. When I say complete that is just the right word for this suite. Nice enough for the most fastidious.

Jenny Lind bedroom suite. Nice and clean.

Universal table-top electric range. This range complete with deep well and does not have a blemish on it. Looks just like the ones in the magazines.

Small Fuel Oil Heater

Farm Bureau Dayton home size electric refrigerator. Snow white and complete with Quick Freeze (I had this box checked by a first class serviceman and he pronounced it perfect.)

Spin Dry all white washer

Philco combination 10-12 record outfit, purchased new in 1947

Almost new room size rug, oil range, tilt-back chair with ottoman. Oak five-piece breakfast set with red seats, six-way floor lamp; pair of beautiful table lamps; end tables; coffee table. In fact most everything to make up a complete home.

This sale will be held at our place of business located at 119 N. State St., just north of Center. We are crowded for space, so be here on time.

We have tried to go out of the auction business but due to the demand for an Auction, such as we operate, by those who know, we are forced to go ahead. We have therefore purchased a building with over 11,000 sq. ft. of floor space in which we will hold sales after remodeling is completed. This will be one of the largest auction houses in the world. This is not wishful planning as we have the deed.

McELHANEY'S
119 N State St 1 p m. tomorrow
For legal reasons this sale must start on time.

GEE, ZERO—AIN'T EVERYTHING GRAND! PRETTY SOON WE'LL BE ON A BIG SHIP SAILING TO A LOVELY ISLAND WHERE CAPTAIN DICK IS GONNA FIND LOTS OF GOLD COLLARS—
